Police Fear Red Rioting During Bonus Army Parade

MARCH LINE IS CHANGED OVER NIGHT

Veterans to Be Shunted to Street Half Mile From White House Back Door

REINFORCEMENTS COME

Police to Cease Feeding Ex-Soldiers Thursday, According to Officers

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—Police strengthened their supervision of the bonus army of 4000 and prepared for emergencies today as authorities disclosed what they claimed was a Communist plot to foment rioting during this evening's parade of war veterans to the capitol.

Superintendent of Police Pelham D. Glassford announced he had learned Communists were organizing a "combat fighting unit" of 100 to clash with police along the parade route. He said Communists were urging that the veterans bonus could be gained only by bloodshed, and not by lobbying.

Glassford promptly cancelled plans to permit the bonus army to parade past the White House. It will be shunted to Constitution avenue, a full half-mile from the back door of the White House. The tattered and grim veterans had planned to parade down Pennsylvania avenue, where they marched with eager step in 1917—the flower of American youth going to war.

Repe Off Route

Glassford said the parade route would be roped off to facilitate handling of any situation that might arise. All police leaves have been cancelled.

Communists are planning a bonus demonstration of their own at the capitol tomorrow. So far they have gained no hold over the destitute veterans encamped in the city. The veterans themselves have lashed at least three agitators and ejected them from their camps.

Nearly 1000 reinforcements joined the new army of the Potomac yesterday and last night. The largest contingent was one of 800

NEW PRESIDENT OF CHILE MAY RESIGN

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 7.—(UP)—Carlos Davila, head of Chile's three-day old Socialist government, may resign, it was reported today, because of army and navy dissatisfaction with his new regime, civilian demonstrations and quarreling among government leaders.

An important section of the army was not in sympathy with the new government. Generals Indalecio Tellez, Carlos Vergara Montero, Carlos Saenz and Manuel Otero applied for retirement.

The government ordered important changes in the naval command, naming Admiral Chapusseaux chief of staff and giving Admiral Spoerer eight hours to hand over command of the Valparaiso station to Admiral Luis Munoz.

SIX PERISH IN FLAMES TODAY IN CLEVELAND

Police and Firemen Search Ruins of Building for 16 Missing Persons

CLEVELAND, June 7.—(UP)—At least eight persons perished early today in a fire that swept the six-story Ellington building in downtown Cleveland following a terrific explosion believed made by pent up gas in a first floor barber shop.

A higher death toll was expected by policemen and firemen who searched the debris for 16 missing persons.

Five bodies were recovered from the ruins and rescuers announced that it was certain three others still were buried in one room.

At least 30 other persons, of the total of 200 that lived in apartments in the building, were seriously injured.

Only two of the dead were identified early today. They were Mrs. Anna Mitchell, 70, janitress, and C. W. Werner, 55, a National City bank guard.

Thrilling rescues were performed by firemen, police and onlookers who braved the flames that streamed from windows to scale ladders and bring out the victims.

Among spectators who assisted were Jimmy Fox, Al Simmons, and Mickey Cochrane, players on the championship Philadelphia Athletics baseball team here for a game today with Cleveland.

Fox said the explosion threw him half out of bed, in his hotel near the building. He and Simmons rushed to the flaming structure and with Cochrane aided firemen in placing ladders and carrying persons from the second and third floors.

Dames Desnoyers, 78, was rescued with his $50,000 Stradivarius violin.

By 4 a. m., firemen had extinguished the fire.

SENATE REAFFIRMS 10 PERCENT SLASH

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The senate today reaffirmed its approval of the ten per cent government salary cut by defeating 41 to 35, a furlough plan offered as a substitute by Senator Moses, Rep., N. H.

The salary reduction recommended by a special economy committee has withstood strong opposition from various senate groups, which introduced a dozen or more plans calling for graduated reductions and exemptions of employees in the lower brackets.

The committee pay cut exempts only those workers with compensations under $1000 annually. Its estimated saving is $117,000,000. The Moses substitute would have saved $85,000,000.

Senator Bratton, Dem., N. Mex., opened debate on the furlough plan, pointing out that although "the administration portrays itself as a champion of economy" every move by congress to cut appropriations had been opposed by cabinet members.

TAX CUT OF 25 PER CENT IS DEMANDED AT MASS MEETING

BROOKHART IN SECOND PLACE IN PRIMARIES

Henry Field Leading Senator From Iowa Today By 30,000 Votes

DES MOINES, June 7.—(UP)—Henry Field, the Shenandoah seed house owner and radio station operator, maintained a substantial lead in the Iowa primary election race for the Republican nomination for United States senator today.

With 1249 precincts counted out of 2435 in the state Brookhart had 77,690; Field, 100,197; Cason, 15,824; Haynes, 22,140; Eickelberg, 4447; and Cook, 7931.

DES MOINES, June 7.—(UP)—

Henry Field's apparent victory over Sen. Smith W. Brookhart for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator from Iowa affected him but slightly as he turned to the task of managing a seed business which he has completely neglected for more than six weeks.

"I knew all the time I'd win," said Field as he watched his lead over the senator creep toward the 30,000 mark. "No Field has ever been defeated at anything. We always win, no matter what we go after."

Field, in his campaign, matched a circus strategy with the veteran Brookhart even to the point of taking with him on his tour of the state a covered wagon and a five-piece band. He resurrected the torchlight parade, unseen in Iowa in 40 years, when he returned like a victorious Caesar to his Shenandoah home with a steam caliope to wheeze a welcome.

He literally took off his coat and went to work. And the bright green arm bands which held back the sleeves of his shirt became known to upwards of 100,000 persons before his campaign ended.

Field never before had been in politics. Born on a farm, at the age of five he sold 50 cents worth of poppy seeds to his aunt, and with that capital started a seed house which now is a million dollar concern.

Being an "amateur in politics" Field broadcast through the state all the examples of alleged Brookhart nepotism he could unearth.

When Brookhart chided him for questioning a "friendly campaign" and offering a chicken stew dinner with Mrs. Field and me at the cottage, Field promptly retorted, "Better chicken stew than the old Brookhart boloney."

With these words his political fortune was made. His admirers served chicken stew in the public parks where he spoke. His wife's recipe was page one news. Issues were forgotten, and chicken stew was the menu on which the populace and Field thrived alike.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 7.—(UP)—Robert R. Reynolds, wet, and Senator Cameron Morrison, dry, will contest in a run off primary July 2 for the Democratic nomination for United States senator after a campaign in which the dry vote was split by an attack on Morrison based on the power issue.

Out of a field of five candidates, Reynolds scored an outstanding victory with a lead of almost 14,000 votes over Morrison in this traditionally dry state, as late returns were counted from the primary held June 4. The run-off primary is necessary as a clear majority is required to nominate.

Reynolds' lead was remarkable as his wet stand was militantly opposed by Morrison who emphasized his dry views. T. C. Boyle and Frank D. Grist, who ran third and fourth respectively, are dry.

Disabled Vets Will Be Hoover Guests

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—Hundreds of disabled World War veterans will be guests of President and Mrs. Hoover at a Garden party June 15.

The former soldiers will be brought by automobile from hospitals in and near Washington to spend the afternoon in the White House gardens. Members of the cabinet and congress, and their wives, are being invited by the Hoovers to help them receive the veterans.

AIMEE HUTTON RETURNS HOME SERIOUSLY ILL

Bundled From Train Into Auto and Rushed Immediately to House

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, internationally known woman evangelist, was bundled from a train here today in a mysterious fashion.

Her husband, the Rev. David Hutton, reported that she was "still very ill" and he declined "for that reason" to permit newspaper men to talk to her or photographers to take her picture.

To prevent any interviews or pictures Hutton had their automobile back up to the side of the train and Mrs. McPherson-Hutton, wrapped in a blanket that almost hid her, was spirited from the train to the automobile.

Hutton climbed in beside her and the car sped off to their home near Angelus temple, headquarters of Mrs. McPherson-Hutton's Four Square gospel.

The homecoming, concluding a tour through Central America, was the strangest in Mrs. McPherson-Hutton's sensational career.

U. S. GUNBOAT FIRES ON CHINESE TROOPS

LONDON, June 7.—(UP)—The U. S. gunboat Oahu opened fire with heavy machine guns on a large band of Chinese regular soldiers on the Yangtze river, 40 miles below Chungking, causing many casualties, and Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Shanghai said today.

The Chinese had tried to compel the surrender of the stranded British steamer Wanliu, carrying $110,000 in specie.

The British ship Kiawo was engaged last night in transferring the Wanliu's passengers, specie and cargo when Chinese soldiers from the bank fired a volley.

FRANK J. EGAN SURRENDERS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Public Defender Wanted in Connection With Murder Gives Self Up

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—(UP)—Public Defender Frank J. Egan, wanted on charges of murder in connection with the mysterious death of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, his old time friend and benefactor, was arrested here today.

He was taken into custody at Park police station after he walked in and calmly remarked that he wished to surrender. He was well dressed and cleanly shaven. There was nothing to indicate that he had been hiding out, a fugitive from justice since his indictment Saturday.

The attorney's sudden and unheralded appearance set at rest widespread rumors that members of a rum-running ring with which he allegedly had contact, had spirited him out of the city and to a safe hideaway.

Egan's attorney, Vincent Hallinan, was not surprised when informed his client had surrendered. "I knew he would do it," Hallinan said.

The surrender came while police throughout the state were organizing a manhunt of huge proportions.

Hallinan said he got in touch with Egan last night and advised him to surrender.

Egan was immediately taken to the office of Police Captain Michael Riordan for questioning. No one was permitted to talk to him.

"We have nothing to say," Hallinan said. "The police have accused him of murder. Let them prove it."

DAWES ENDS PUBLIC LIFE ON JUNE 15

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—Hard working and plain spoken Charles Gates Dawes is closing another page in his long book of service to the nation. He retires on June 15 from the presidency of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to return to his Chicago banking business.

His resignation was accepted last evening by President Hoover with deep expressions of regret and praise for his "lifetime devotion to public welfare." Dawes had given no intimation of his plan to return to Chicago so soon.

He submitted his resignation with an expression of confidence that the country is on the road to better times.

"Now that the balancing of the national budget by congress is assured, the turning point toward eventual prosperity in this country seems to have been reached," he said.

Letter Will Be Sent To Officials

John Leitch Tells Audience America is on Verge of Receivership

DECLARING THAT in business parlance America is on the verge of a receivership, John Leitch, former industrial specialist, addressed a crowd of Orange county citizens and taxpayers that filled the high school auditorium last night at a mass meeting at which they took action approving a letter to be sent every public office holder in Orange county demanding a 25 per cent reduction in governmental expenditures and taxes.

The meeting was held under auspices of the Orange County Civic league.

"We the people of America," he declared, "are buying goods from the mill that turns our government and we are tired of getting goods with holes in it."

Leitch called the attention of his audience to the fact that when the Constitution was written its framers gave the people two powers which, if exercised, will return the government to them and keep it there. These powers, he said, are the right to select officials and to recall them.

As the first step in the move to regain control of the government which, he said, had passed out of the hands of the people, Leitch read a letter to be addressed to "Every Public Office Holder in Orange County."

The letter demanded a 25 per cent reduction in expenditures and taxes and pointed to the power of recall for officials whose services are deemed unsatisfactory. The official who does not cooperate for this saving in governmental expenditures would be considered as having rendered unsatisfactory services, according to the letter.

Leitch called for a rising vote on whether or not the letter should be sent, and the large audience approved it with but one dissenting vote, which was recorded by a stock broker, the leitch was:

"We, the citizens of Orange county, demand a 25 per cent reduction in expenditures and taxes. This requires an average saving of $50,000 per week during the fiscal year, and the pruning process must begin at once.

"You were elected, or appointed, for the express and only purpose of carrying out the will of the people, and in this necessity redundancy you will, as always, use

BIG NAVAL AIRSHIP READY FOR RETURN

SUNNYVALE, Cal., June 7.—(UP)—In perfect condition, the U. S. S. Akron, the navy's gigantic dirigible, remained at the mooring mast here today, awaiting orders to return to Lakehurst, N. J.

The queen of the sky is tentatively scheduled to depart this week, her maneuvers with the fleet in the Pacific completed.

While the sun glinted from her silver sides late yesterday, the Akron soared lazily over San Francisco with mayors of 14 cities in this region aboard. During the three hour cruise the three airplanes carried by the Akron were released and "picked up" again and again while thousands of persons witnessed the delicate maneuver from the streets below.

RUM RUNNER SEIZED BY COAST GUARDS

SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 7.—(UP)—The coast guard patrol boat Bonham radioed to local headquarters today that it had captured the motorship Chesapeake and found 1000 cases of liquor aboard.

The Chesapeake was taken just northwest of Point Arguello, the message said. Four members of the Chesapeake's crew were arrested, it was reported.

Here Is Prize Fish Story For This Year

ARMONK, N. Y., June 7.—(UP)—Sportive carp which thronged a narrow inlet of Kensico reservoir blocked a highway, by attracting attention of hundreds of motorists who stopped to watch them frolic en route to spawning beds.

Carp by the thousands leaped high in air. Police shot them "on the wing." Pedestrians "winged" them with stones from the roadside. Some of the old timers played tunes by flipping their tails as drum-sticks on parked automobiles.

Edward Davis stood by with a spear and hooked carp for all who asked for them.

ROCKEFELLER URGES REPEAL OF AMENDMENT

Temperance Advocate Says Evils Outweigh Blessings of Abolition

NEW YORK, June 7.—(UP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., born and bred teetotaler stock, has spurned the prohibition amendment and come out for its repeal.

His startling course, after years of moral and financial support of the dry cause, led anti-prohibition forces today to see a tremendous impetus for a national referendum on prohibition, while drys charged him with erroneous conclusions on prohibition's effect and insisted they still would win.

Rockefeller made known his change of heart in a letter endorsing Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's proposal for a repeal plank in the Republican national platform.

Head of the Standard Oil, prominent in church and philanthropic work, Rockefeller all his life has been an abstainer and an ardent worker for dry legislation. His father and grandfather were abstainers, and his mother, Rockefeller says in his announcement, was one of a band of ardent women who took prayer into the saloons to combat the evil of drink. Heared in such tradition, he contributed to the Anti-Saloon League war chest and spoke for prohibition. Now, he sees prohibition as detrimental and favors its abandonment, leaving to later the working out of substitute plans.

Rockefeller had hoped, he told Butler, that the 18th amendment would be generally supported by public opinion and that the cause of temperance would be advanced.

EXPECT HOT BATTLE AT BOURBON MEET

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The opening of the Democratic national convention seems certain to be marked by a spirited clash of Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt factions over selection of a permanent convention chairman.

Joett Shouse, chairman of the party executive committee, stands firmly as a candidate for the post despite announcement of James A. Farley, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign manager, that the Roosevelt forces will seek to elect Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana.

Shouse in reaffirming his candidacy for the permanent chairmanship accused Roosevelt of a breach of faith.

BANK IN BEVERLY HILLS TO REOPEN

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 7.—(UP)—Officials of the First National Bank of Beverly Hills predicted today that the bank would reopen for business "early" in a month.

"Progress toward reopening has been splendid," Richard Harman, president, said. "We expect to make such a move within a month."

Scores of film stars, including Jean Harlow, Wallace Beery, Greta Garbo, Eddie Cantor and Marie Dressler were among those who had deposits in the bank when it closed Friday.

DRASTIC GAG RULE PASSED 205 TO 189

Administration Leaders in House Defeated After Bitter Fight on Floor

BILL IS CONSIDERED

Adoption of Resolution is Forecast of Passage of Garner's Measure

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(UP)—The house late today passed Speaker Garner's $2,300,000,000 relief bill shortly after it had rejected President Hoover's program.

—Democratic leaders today won a clearcut triumph in the first test vote on the Garner $2,400,000,000 relief bill when the House agreed to accept drastic "gag rules" to govern the measure's consideration.

The rule, giving every possible parliamentary advantage to the Democrats, was bitterly fought by administration leaders who declared the majority was attempting to "hog tie" the membership into passing the bill.

Adoption of the resolution was taken to indicate the Democratic majority would obtain passage of the relief bill itself.

The vote on the "gag rule" resolution, which technically came on a Republican motion not to consider "the previous question," was 205 to 189. The House then by a voice vote formally adopted the drastic rule. It then immediately began consideration of Garner's bill.

MAKE 10 PER CENT CUT IN SALARIES

Salaries of all employees under control of the Orange county board of supervisors were cut 10 per cent by action of the board late this afternoon. The ruling will affect employees receiving more than $75 a month.

This action followed close on the heels of a demand at a mass meeting last night for a general reduction of 25 per cent in expenditure and taxes and requests for economy by the joint Farm Bureau and County Realty Boards Tax committee.

ROARKE TO HEAD DAILY

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(UP)—Hal R. Roarke, city editor of the Illustrated Daily News, has been appointed executive in charge of the editorial departments.

In this position Roarke assumes the responsibilities of the late Harry Eller, managing editor, who died recently.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 7. (To the Editor of The Register:)

We never realized that elections were so near till we see by the papers this morning that each political party has "some" plan of relieving the unemployed. They have been unemployed for three years, and nobody paid any attention to 'em, but now both parties have discovered that while they are not working, there is nothing in the Constitution to prevent them from voting. So Democratic Campaign Leader "Hoey" and Republican Leader "Baloney" say, "We have to do something about this. Miss Secretary, reach in the bag and get out some of those old campaign promises. We will just 'em off and use 'em again this year, and remember, no matter what the other side promises, see their promise and raise 'em two more."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Suggest Scrip Plan For Unemployed In Santa Ana

WOULD TRADE SUPPLIES FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

Proposing to create a system of "workers' co-operative scrip" to be used by members of the unemployed association of Santa Ana as a medium of exchange in return for services rendered the city for public work, a plan was presented to members of the Emergency Relief committee at the first meeting of the group held yesterday afternoon in the old Willard school building.

The letter, which was signed by Chairman T. A. Broderick and the executive committee, stated that the plan has already been adopted and that the group now wished to enlarge upon it to make it more effective for the relief of Santa Ana workers, both men and women, who are able and willing to work and who wish to earn their livelihood "rather than become objects of charity."

Ask Co-operation
The group now has a membership of 700, representing more than 3000 residents of Santa Ana who have been fed each week. Need of larger quarters for a commissary and to continue operations was stressed.

The co-operation of the committee was asked in securing donations of food, clothing and other articles for the co-operative commissary, and such cash donations as possible to be used to purchase needed commissary supplies.

The committee was also asked to select and designate a series of public projects upon which the members of the Unemployed Workers may work in exchange for the subsistence they receive so that the group may return to the community in labor, full value for all donations.

Trade Work for Scrip

The scrip issued would be redeemable at the commissary of the group only. It was pointed out, and no supplies would leave the commissary except in exchange for work. Several public projects that might be undertaken were suggested: in the communication, including planting of trees and other greenery along the Santa Ana boulevard on the S. P. right-of-way, on the old Willard school grounds. Creation of a park along Santiago creek through Santa Ana with auto drive, picnic grounds, etc., was suggested, as well as elimination of dangerous dips in streets, rounding of cement curbs, planting and care of trees along highways entering Santa Ana, expansion of development plan at the Santa Ana Bowl and other civic improvements.

"If idle men can be used on such projects as this," the letter stated, "without bond issues and without increased taxation, but only through voluntary donations by citizens and business firms in Santa Ana and at the same time provide a living for those unable to earn it in any other way, we believe the beneficial results would be appreciated by everyone and that we would be accorded the fullest co-operation of the public."

Other members of the executive committee who signed the letter were: R. J. Rogers, Charles F. Seiber, Edd. A. Putnam, William Riddiman and J. F. Burke.

MOULTON GOES TO QUARANTINE MEET

TAX REDUCTION DEMANDED AT MASS MEETING

your best judgment, making the cuts where there will be the least disturbance of necessary and proper governmental functions.

"You are aware that American citizens liberally reward services rendered, and that our Constitution provides for the recall of officials when services are unsatisfactory. This communication calls for no reply other than your immediate and regular performance, concerning which we will keep in close touch."

After receiving approval of this letter, Leitch announced that another meeting would be held within a short time and a similar letter be prepared for forwarding to President Hoover and Federal officials in Washington, D. C.

With the power of recall properly exercised there is no need for Bolshevism or revolution, Leitch said. "There is fear of a revolution in New York and Washington," the speaker said, "but if it comes it will not be a revolution of the people against the government, it will be a revolution against unworthy political leadership and financial control in partnership to govern America."

Comparing America to a large industry Leitch said, "The country is like a shop, the banks are calling our loans and are on the verge of receivership."

Illustrating his point he told of an experience when he was at the head of a large industry in the east.

The shop workers were being led by Bolshevik union leaders and destroying finished material after it left the factory.

With ruin facing the factory Leitch called a meeting of the workers and told them that charges of their leaders to the effect, that improved products and lower production were demanded, for the bosses, however, were not the heads of the plant but the people who purchased the finished product. When unsatisfactory product was offered for sale it was refused and the people, through their actions were depriving themselves of employment.

"That is happening today," he said. "We are buying goods from the mill that produces our government and we are getting tired of goods with holes in it."

Speaking of the recall, Leitch termed it the spur that makes public officials do right when other inducements have failed. "If America wants to go forward it shall not look alone at the gain ahead, but shall look at the spur behind."

In asking approval of the letter to be sent all Orange county officials, Leitch said that it was not to be considered as a threat, but as an encouragement to the man who does right.

"There are men in office in Orange county who are good, clean, honest men. They have turned down opportunities to go wrong and are serving honestly. I am going to ask you to come down and help keep them in office, back them up and pat them on the back."

"Many of the men in office know that income has decreased during the past few years and will be glad to help out the bosses. If there is a man who is not willing to do this we have the recall."

Opening his address Leitch said that he had spoken before hundreds of thousands of young Americans, foreigners and has found that the majority of the foreigners who come to America breathe the air of liberty and freedom before reaching this country. Feeling the oppression and repression of their own countries they came here hoping to find freedom.

"They have the spirit of men which is the same hope and belief as our own—a yearning for home and liberty. Our forefathers, he said, built a Constitution that appeals to every man because its goal is freedom and liberty."

"Conditions today constitute good news rather than bad news, as before there can be a new life there is the strain, pain and complaint of birth and the present crisis is the pain that precedes the birth of new liberty and freedom."

The move launched last night, he said, is to smooth the path toward liberty and freedom from the condition that prevails.

"It is to save America," he said. "And what is America to be saved from? We will begin with Orange county."

"In 1927 the average man had sufficient income to keep his bills paid, live comfortably and enjoy a few of the pleasures and luxuries of life. During that time he hardly noticed the expenditure of more than $7,000,000 in taxes necessary for the county government."

"In 1931 incomes have been reduced 50 per cent and in the case of many men at the head of business houses the reduction has been 100 per cent. That is why we have unemployment. During the same period, since 1927 when our income decreased 50 per cent our county government expenditures have increased 50 per cent. That is one thing we want to be saved from."

"There are 8,000,000 unemployed men in the nation today. These men are willing to work and capable of work but are not given the opportunity to earn a livelihood."

"During the period that started in 1929 and reaches to the present, investments, meaning stocks and bonds, have dropped to a point 27 per cent lower than was reached during the panic of 1921. Stock and bond values have been cut $30,000,000,000 since 1929."

"In the past 10 years financiers have loaned $17,000,000,000 to foreign countries and the bonds received in return are worth less than 40 cents on the dollar today. The government loaned $10,000,000,000 for war purposes and our young men died for Democracy but we haven't it today."

"These war loans have been reduced and the interest has been reduced and a moratorium declared to make it easy for foreign countries but what has been done for America?"

"Not so long ago $2,000,000,000 was given the bankers. This was paid out of tax money. Did the American people get any of that?"

"Just today in congress a bill was passed approving a $1,118,000,000 bill for the people to pay. This bill is to balance the budget. I cannot see how America will balance the budget that way unless it follows the lead Europe sets when she wipes out her debt payments to America and calls the budget balanced."

"During the last year 150,000,000 acres of land were taken over by the state and by bankers in payment of delinquent taxes and through foreclosures on mortgages. In one state 40,000 farms and homesteads were taken over throwing 40,000 men out of work."

"We have been skidding directly into Communism without a vote. When the state owns your property, and your bosses property it will not be long until you either have no work or are working for the state."

"When our property is taken by the state for taxes we are working for the state and that is Communism without the vote."

"We still have the power to correct these things in spite of the international bankers and in spite of our lost land. We still have the power."

"Whose fault is it that we are in our present condition? Whom can we blame for a condition that verges on Communism? The fault is ours."

"Our forefathers were wise. They looked into the past and saw the mistake of rule by individuals and saw that in this country there should be self rule. Maybe they got that idea from Jesus."

"When they prepared the Constitution they said 'you shall elect but there shall be no kings.' We forgot that for today we have financial kings. They also said 'you shall be self governed and have the privilege of making your own mistakes' and that is a privilege because it is through mistakes that we learn."

"If we tell a child that a stove is hot and will burn him if he touches it he does not learn that fact until he has touched the stove. Immediately his hand touches the hot metal, the nerves send a message to his brain that he is being burned and he removes his hand. Were it not for these nerves and their message the child would allow his hand to remain until destroyed."

"We are being burned today but we are staying too long. Wake up America. Wake up—not with guns and wars but with the power put in the Constitution."

"One power given us was that of electing our own officers but we have forgotten another power equally as strong—the power of recall. Perhaps you say you have tried the power of recall but did not get very far with it. That was because we did not get behind it strong enough. If you want to recall a man and if you think that he should be recalled, get behind the movement and recall him."

In contrast to the usual returns of Mrs. McPherson-Hutton when thousands of her followers customarily cheer her appearance there were but a handful at the station. It was explained that the blonde evangelist had requested specifically that they remain away.

Customarily, too, Mrs. McPherson-Hutton greets her followers with newspapermen and photographers. Those who got a brief glimpse of the evangelist this morning reported that her face was white and drawn and that she looked "very ill" as her husband suggested.

She took the trip through Central America as a health tour and it was while she was in Guatemala that Hutton first reported that she was losing strength instead of gaining it.

She later was reported still ill in New Orleans when she arrived there from Central America.

Mrs. McPherson-Hutton's health has been poor for several years. She frequently has been reported on the verge of a nervous breakdown and she has been absent from her pulpit often.

Because of her health rumors have been circulated that she plans sale of Angelus Temple to the Rev. Paul Rader, of Chicago, or some other evangelist.

FRANK J. EGAN SURRENDERS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Indicted with Verne L. Doran and Albert Tinnin, ex-convicts, on charges of killing Mrs. Hughes.

The woman, who reputedly left her estate to Egan, was killed in her home. Later an automobile was run over her body to make it appear she had been killed by a hit-skip driver.

Doran made a purported confession to police Saturday, implicating Egan as the alleged "master mind" behind the murder and declaring Tinnin struck the blows that rendered the woman unconscious and paved the way for her death.

"That this has not been the result," he wrote, "but rather that drinking generally has been increased; that the speakeasy has replaced the saloon; not only unit for unit, but probably two fold, if not three fold; that a vast army of law-breakers has been recruited and financed on a colossal scale; that many of our best citizens, piqued at what they regarded as an infringement of their private rights, have openly and unabashedly disregarded the 18th amendment; that as an inevitable result, respect for all law has been greatly lessened; that crime has increased to an unprecedented degree—I have slowly and reluctantly come to believe."

The former ally of prohibition returned these further indictments against the 18th amendment with the following suggestions: "I am not unmindful of the blessings in the abolition of the saloon. But these benefits . . . are more than outweighed by the evils which have developed; evils which if not promptly checked are likely to lead to conditions unspeakably worse" than they were before prohibition. Repeal may not by itself end all these evils but "it is a prerequisite to the attainment of that goal."

If the eighteenth amendment is repealed, "sufficient time ought to be given before repeal became effective to permit the states by legislative action" to set up such safeguards and methods of control as will insure promotion of temperance.

Repeal should be permitted without alternative suggestions for control methods because "it will be so difficult for our people as a whole to agree in advance on what the substitute should be and so unlikely that any one method will fit the entire nation."

Rockefeller preceded his startling attack on the prohibition amendment with an explanation of the attitude of his famous father and himself, and an outline of the beliefs of his mother and grandmother which read:

"My mother and her mother were among the dauntless women of their day who, hating the horrors of drunkenness, were often found with bands of women of like mind, praying on their knees in the saloons in their ardent desire to save men from the evils that so commonly sprang from these sources of iniquity."

Dry leaders generally held to the view that Rockefeller's description of their cause would not prevent their ultimate victory.

RIOTS FEARED BY POLICE AS ARMY PARADES

from Philadelphia. Others arrived from Reading and Erie, Pa., Jacksonville and Miami, Fla., New York City and Somerville, N. J. Police reports showed 2200 were enroute, including 1000 in Pittsburgh and other Pennsylvania points.

Each incoming contingent was greeted as it arrived at the improvised camp established across the eastern branch of the Potomac, in Anacostia park; each new recruit had to register, show his discharge papers and agree to abide by the strict discipline of the bonus army. Then he was given a roll and hot coffee, and a straw-filled bed tick.

Three open and shed-like "barracks" house a few hundred of the army. The rest had been sleeping on the grass, but after being drenched in a thunderstorm Sunday night many fashioned makeshift shelters. With scraps of lumber they constructed crude "lean-tos" against a neighboring bank. Straw and long grass served as a thatch.

$5000 BAIL IS DEMANDED FOR RELEASE OF 3

Ball of $5000 each was demanded of Edward G. McAdoo, his brother, George McAdoo and Marian Eckroat, all of Orange, when the trio was arraigned before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison in the justice court late this morning on charges of robbery filed against them in connection with the robbing of the Smart and Final warehouse of cigarettes valued at nearly $2000 the night of May 13.

The preliminary examination was set for June 21 at 9 a. m. none of the defendants made the bail and all were lodged in the county jail to await examination.

The complaint against the men was signed yesterday by Detective Sergeant Charles W. Wolford of the Santa Ana police department.

George McAdoo was employed by Smart and Final company at the time of the robbery. He is alleged to have admitted the other two robbers to the warehouse when they held him and another night watchman at the point of a gun, stole a company truck after binding the two men, and escaping with 26 cases of cigarettes.

COMBINATION OF ALL RELIEF WORK IS URGED

J. S. Smart, well known Santa Ana business man, was chosen temporary chairman of the newly appointed Emergency Relief committee at the first meeting of the five new members which was held late yesterday afternoon in the old Willard school building on North Main street.

Smart accepted the chairmanship of the committee with certain reservations, however. The consensus of the meeting was that, if at all possible, various relief agencies in the city should be combined under one general committee of which each organization should be a part and which would be represented by one or more delegates.

The idea of combining the relief activities of the city under a general committee of control was broached and upheld by Smart, who suggested that a conference be arranged with heads of other relief agencies of the city in the near future to determine if such a procedure is possible. Upon the successful completion of the project he based his statement that he would accept the chairmanship of the committee—only if a general committee could be formed to act as a clearing house for all relief work to avoid duplication of efforts.

Proper machinery for systematic distribution of groceries and other necessities could be obtained in such a manner, Smart declared, and the general group could act as a court of higher resort. Mayor Paul Witmer explained the objects of appointing a committee of five members to replace the former committee appointed by former Mayor John Knox, which was believed to have been too unwieldy because of the large membership.

During the meeting Herbert Rankin, former head of the county committee, hit the distribution plan used by the County Welfare department, stating that the idea of giving persons dependent upon the county a two-dollar grocery order instead of groceries was not sound. He advocated the direct distribution of food supplies.

Net only the present needs of many families in the city for assistance was stressed at the meeting, but the apparent needs of the coming winter were discussed. "I don't care if the city or county has any money or not," Smart asserted, "they must dig down in their jeans for help this winter."

Robert Speed, executive secretary of the former Citizens Emergency Relief committee, suggested that the commissary and employment divisions of the relief work be separated. Smart announced that he would start work today in an effort to arrange for the cooperation of other relief agencies in the city in the general committee plan.

Means of cooperating with the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana was the subject of considerable discussion. Needs for more room for the group in their activities was brought out. Speed said he had offered the group the use of part of the building at the old Willard school building, and he was asked by the committee to contact the board of education with the view of obtaining official permission for them to use it. That this would be granted was believed by Speed.

EVIDENCE IS BOARD TAKES PRESENTED IN $250 FOR 50 GONZALES CASE YEAR FRANCHISE

Basilio Gonzales, on trial in department one of superior court for manslaughter in connection with the death of George Covarrubio in an automobile accident near Anaheim, was expected to start presentation of his defense late today through his attorney, W. M. Burke. When court recessed at noon Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, in charge of the prosecution indicated that the majority of his evidence had been presented.

The trial started last Thursday and resulted in election of a jury only after a special venire had been called. Immediately after selection of the jury the case was continued until yesterday morning.

One juror who misunderstood the hour set for his appearance in court yesterday appeared an hour late and was informed that a bench warrant had been issued for him. His explanation was accepted by the court and he was warned.

Dr. H. M. Price, of the county hospital staff who gave emergency treatment to Covarrubio and Gonzales, was called by the prosecution late yesterday and testified that when he dressed Gonzales's injuries he smelled liquor on the man's breath and that Gonzales had admitted taking two drinks. He would not testify, however, that the man was intoxicated.

ASK APPROVAL OF WATER SPREADING

Orange county supervisors were requested today to approve and consent to the spreading of water in the upper basin of the Santa Ana river in a letter from the Placentia Chamber of Commerce. The letter, signed by Thomas Pickercell, secretary of that organization, contained a copy of a resolution recently adopted by the directors of the chamber.

The resolution declared that in the opinion of the directors the proposal was a desirable project and of benefit to the people of this county.

Court Notes

Charged with defrauding an apartment house keeper, Mrs. Belle McKittick, 42, 421 1-2 East First street, was arraigned before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison in justice court this morning. Complaint was signed by Bessie Hanson. The defendant pleaded not guilty, asked for a trial by the jury, the date of which was set for June 16 at 9 a. m. She was released without demand for bail.

OPTOMETRISTS HIT PEDDLERS OF SPECTACLES

Warning against what was termed a spectacle racket, and an appeal to Orange county packing houses and mercantile establishments to assist in protecting their employees from unwittingly doing something to impair their vision or being taken advantage of, was issued today by the Orange County Optometric association following its meeting last night.

Much time was devoted to discussion of reports of unlicensed spectacle peddling in the county and throughout Southern California by several peddlers of ready-to-wear spectacles who make a practice of soliciting business from the packing houses and other establishments, according to Secretary D. R. Waters.

In a letter sent today to all packing houses and business establishments, the association's department of vigilance says, "Inasmuch as such a practice has proved to be detrimental to the visual welfare of the public the California Optometry act has provided severe restrictions to curb this practice. In spite of this an occasional individual will find a loop hole in the law, generally through the method of allowing the customer to select the frame and lens combination which seem the closest to giving him a momentary improvement in vision, whereupon he sells the frame and lenses and leaves the vicinity."

"The prices quoted are generally low enough to appear as bargains compared with the services offered by the optometrist or oculist, but are actually exorbitant compared with the prices of similar glazed goods offered by the five and ten cent stores."

By calling your attention to this racket that you may be in a better position to safeguard your employee's vision."

Dr. D. R. E. Waters, of Santa Ana, and Dr. George McClelland of Fullerton, addressed the association on "Recent Advancements in Measuring Inefficient Focusing Powers of the Human Eye."

Plant 200 Trees On Memory Lane

More than 200 trees have already been planted and 1000 more will be planted this year along the highway from Irvine park to the beach at Long Beach to be known as Memory lane. It was announced today following a meeting of the Memory Lane association at American Legion hall last night. Each tree planted is dedicated to the memory of some veteran of America's wars as living memorial to their sacrifice.

The association is composed of various patriotic organizations, clubs and societies, including the Disabled Veterans, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 40 and 8, Trench Rats, Daughters of the American Revolution, G. A. R. and its auxiliary, Spanish-American War Veterans, Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and 29-30 clubs and various parlors of Native Sons and Daughters. Col. C. L. Jackson, of Long Beach, is president and Dickie Tubbs of the Orange County Agricultural department is one of the technical advisors.

THREE INJURED IN 2 AUTO ACCIDENTS

Three injured persons and two more automobile accidents that occurred outside of incorporated areas were added to the week end total today when reports were filed at the motor vehicle department.

Pola Buckley, 1066 West First street, was injured when she was riding in a car driven by Clitus Reville, San Diego sailor, Saturday night when it collided with another car on the Coast highway at the Arches. The driver of the other car was not named in the report.

Mrs. Irene Hargett and Miss Leona Stevenson were injured in another accident that occurred Saturday night at the corner of Fifteenth street and Orange avenue, Newport Heights, when they were passengers in a car driven by H. K. Hargett of Los Angeles, which crashed with a car driven by Donald Stafford of Corona del Mar, according to a report of the accident filed today.

DRUNK CHARGES FILED AGAINST TWO MOTORISTS

One man and one woman today were facing charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor as a result of arrests made last night.

W. R. Mason, 55, of San Bernardino, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Dean and Nicholson on West Seventeenth street when he was driving all over the road, according to reports filed at the sheriff's office.

Mason apparently saw that the officers were after him and threw a pint of whiskey out of the car, officers said. The whiskey was recovered and is being held for evidence. He turned over nearly $225 to the jailer when he was booked and lodged in jail.

Chloe Carrell, 29, Anaheim orange packer, was booked at the county jail by Chief of Police Pearson of Fullerton on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. She was arrested last night.

EXPLOSION, FLAMES DESTROY BUILDING

An investigation to determine the cause of the explosion and resulting fire which destroyed the large two-story house at Third and Lake streets in Huntington Beach was launched today by J. K. Sargent, fire chief of the beach city.

Residents of the neighborhood were awakened at 2:45 o'clock this morning by a terrific explosion. Immediately thereafter the entire building burst into flames. Firemen were able to confine the fire to the rooming house. The building is said to be owned by J. Taber, of Los Angeles.

According to firemen, the building was not occupied at the time of the explosion.

MERCHANT ASKS FOR FIREWORKS PERMIT

The first "bang" of the coming Fourth of July holiday was sounded at the city council meeting last night when Henry's Bicycle shop presented a written application to the city council for permission to sell fireworks in the city for the coming holiday.

The request obtained the sanction of the city council with the proviso that the matter have the sanction of the fire chief. It was explained at the meeting that in years when the council had prohibited the sale of fireworks in the city, stands were established just outside the city limits by outside firms who reaped the benefit of the sales instead of the local established merchant.

The action against the sale of fireworks in the city was taken previously by the council because of an ordinance which prohibits the shooting of fireworks in the city. The council indicated last night that merchants who are not regularly engaged in business here will not be granted licenses this year to sell fireworks.

Disabled Vets To Meet Tomorrow In K. of C. Hall

Earl B. Hawks, commander of the Jack Fisher chapter Disabled American Veterans of the World War, announced today the regular business meeting Wednesday evening would be held at the Knights of Columbus hall, Fourth and French streets. This change has been made in deference to the wishes of the American Legion Auxiliary which is to serve a dinner at the Legion hall for the Orange County Peace Officers' association Wednesday night, Hawks explained.

John F. Burke, of Riverside, is expected to be a guest of the chapter at this meeting. Burke is Fourth district commander and was elected at the recent state convention of the organization at Modesto, District Commander Burke is expected to give an outline of his plans for the coming year and appointments are expected for the various committees at an early date.

Plans will be completed for a large delegation attending the national convention at San Diego June 18 to 25. It was announced today by W. B. Martin, secretary.

Members of the club whose birthdays fall during the month of June will be seated at a separate table at Wednesday's meeting, where they will be served in honor of their birthdays. Included in the group to be honored are Rufe Cartwright, John Cranston, A. J. Cruikshank, Hugh Lowe, "Doc" Smith and Carl Wiessman.

Police News

W. J. Crouch of South Sullivan street, Santa Ana, reported to police last night that his car had been stolen from near the high school some time between 7:30 and 8:45 o'clock.

Two boys who were rushing the Fourth of July holiday and who were shooting firecrackers in the Santa Ana Bowl and on the streets last night, were picked up by police officers and released to appear before Acting Chief Harry Pink today for disposition of their case.

Police today were asked to watch a vacant house at 604 Lacy street because prowlers have been reported in the vicinity recently. The house was partially burned some time ago and the owners, who live in Long Beach, are fearful for the safety of their property.

Both drivers escaped injury when cars driven by Mrs. C. G. Minter of North Flower and La Vista street and E. C. Freeman of 2313 West Fifth street, came together on West Fourth street.

between Bush and Ross streets yesterday.

Matilde Villa, 42, Santa Ana Mexican, was arrested today by Captain Jess Buckles of the local police department and was held for San Bernardino officers on a charge of failure to appear on a traffic violation.

TREE TRIMMING IS AUTHORIZED BY CITY DADS

Residents of the city who have had their hats knocked off and the tops of their automobiles punctured because of the overhanging branches of trees on the streets and sidewalks, were relieved today to hear of the action taken by the city council last night when City Engineer DeWitt Dudley was instructed to authorize the forestry board to proceed with a city-wide tree trimming program.

The project will cost around $400 or $500, according to an estimate made by Dudley. The council requested that judgment be used in cutting trees so that walnut trees in outlying sections of the city that are heavily loaded with walnuts would not be stripped of the nuts.

Many complaints have come in to the city engineer's office regarding the drooping branches of trees in the city, it was pointed out last night.

Contractors Must Renew Licenses

All licenses issued by the state registrar of contractors lapse and expire on June 30, it was announced today by Frederic Sanford, secretary of the Orange County Builder's Exchange.

Renewal applications, he pointed out, if filed not later than June 30, automatically continue the license in force. Renewal forms will be mailed to all licensees before June 10. Contractors were urged to notify the registrar if addresses have been changed and not previously reported.

The renewal of a license after July 30 requires a $20 fee, according to Sanford.

WHY BE SICK?

It Costs So Little to Get Well
At one time your body functioned normally and if given a chance will do so again... but it must be given that chance, and the cause of your illness or suffering must be removed. Most cases of sickness are caused by "PINCHED NERVES" which are unable to distribute the necessary nerve force to the affected organ or organs. It will be readily understood, then, that the cause does not lie where the feeling of distress is centered and to treat the organ or part without removing the cause is useless. In order that you may understand these facts more clearly and find the Road to Health in Nature's Way without drugs or operations we invite you to take advantage of our—

"We're not asking you

7 out of 10 smokers inhale knowingly
—the other 3 inhale unknowingly!

DO you inhale? Lucky Strike can meet the issue fairly and squarely. For it has solved the problem. Luckies' famous purifying process removes certain impurities that are concealed in even the choicest, mildest tobacco leaves. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

And since you do inhale, make sure—make absolutely sure—your cigarette smoke is pure—is clean—that certain impurities have been removed, protect those delicate membranes!

DENY REQUEST FOR EXEMPTION OF LICENSES

An appeal presented in the form of a petition, signed by Santa Ana grocers who are served by the Riverside Wholesale grocery company, to the city council at the regular meeting last night asking that a section of the present license ordinance be repealed so that trucks delivering merchandise in the city from that company would not have to pay license on the trucks, was refused by the council after the matter had been presented orally as well by Hugh Gerrard of the Alpha Beta store and S. E. Cook, local grocer.

City Clerk Vegely read the existing section of the ordinance, which states that all vehicles used to deliver merchandise here must pay $6 a quarter for each vehicle, with the exception of any firm holding a license under the existing ordinance. It was brought out that there are some 250 firms that bring merchandise into the city, and that if the license section on vehicles was repealed it would mean a net loss to the city annually of from $5000 to $6000.

Gerrard claimed that any further expense to trucks bringing goods here was bound to come back to the local stores and then be transferred to the people. The Riverside grocery company does the buying for the Alpha Beta stores, he said, and delivers the goods to their Santa Ana stores, as well as to many other independent stores. He said that he felt that the ordinance discriminated between the independent merchants and chain stores, because chain stores deliv-

Street Name Finally Is Changed

Concurring with a recommendation made last night by the city planning commission, the city council ordered City Attorney Clyde Downing to draw up an ordinance changing the name of Eucalyptus avenue to Jefferson place.

Residents of the street had previously requested the council to change the name to Victoria drive but this request was refused. The name of Jefferson place was suggested and approved by the council last night. "We want a name even councilmen can spell," a property owner said last night, "none of us can spell it."

It was brought out that it would cost the city from $50 to $60 to change the name, the cost centering mainly in the printing of the ordinances required to change the name of the street. The street took its name from the Jefferson school.

Goods here without the payment of license on trucks.

Vegely explained that the chain own stores. If the Riverside grocers trucks delivered only to their very company had offices here, Vegely declared, they would not have to pay a license for their trucks. They pay licenses in other towns, he said, and pointed out that Newport Beach charges every truck that comes into the city.

Following the discussion, the question of whether chain stores could not be made to pay a license on the trucks used to deliver merchandise to their stores in Santa Ana was then taken up and Councilman J. C. McBride moved that the matter be referred to the city attorney for an official opinion. The motion was carried.

PURCHASE OF POLICE PATROL IS REQUESTED AT $4500 PRICE

The Santa Ana police department has never possessed a proper means of transporting drunks, criminals and large groups of persons, but will have in the near future, if the wishes of Councilman E. G. Warner, police commissioner, are heeded by the city council when it draws and approves the city budget for the coming fiscal year, it was learned today.

The desire for a patrol wagon, or "Black Maria," has been expressed by both Chief of Police Floyd Howard and Councilman Warner. Prisoners are now escorted to and from the jail and to other cities sometimes, by ordinary automobiles.

The need for a patrol wagon was stressed today by Councilman Warner, who declared that the Santa Ana police department operates with less rolling stock than does any other city of similar size in Southern California.

The patrol wagon now being considered could be purchased by the city for $750, it is said.

V.F.W. REPORTS 4000 POPPIES SOLD IN S. A.

A spirit of enthusiasm marked the meeting of Ernest L. Kellogg post Veterans of Foreign Wars last night, according to those attending. Reports from the Buddy Poppy sale committees of the post and its auxiliary were received showing that nearly 4000 Buddy Poppies were sold on the streets of Santa Ana on Saturday, May 27. Expressions of appreciation for the splendid support given by the people of Santa Ana to this enterprise were voiced on all sides, said Commander Wm. Kelsey.

Dr. James Farrage, a World War veteran, was a guest at the meeting, and presented the report of Orange County Veterans Welfare board, of which he is a member. Announcement of the social activities of the post and Auxiliary was made, which calls for a card party and dance, in charge of the Drum Corps, on Monday evening June 13, and another on June 27, under the auspices of the Auxiliary. Commander Kelsey emphasized the desire of the post and Auxiliary that the public is always cordially invited to these social affairs as it is for the purpose of bringing about a closer contact between the public and the activities of the organization that these functions are held.

Department Commander Val Brandon, in a vigorous communication to the post, expressed his displeasure at the attitude of many veterans in their "Bonus March" on Washington for the purpose of coercing the congress and the administration in the matter of the full payment of the bonus at this time. He assured all members of the department of California-Nevada that everything was being done in the interest of veterans, through the regular channels to promote the amelioration of the condition of the needy, and urged all members of this department to discourage all efforts in this direction, not countenanced by the proper authorities of the V. F. W.

Ask Gravel For Towner Street

Residents of Towner street in the west part of the city, last night presented a written request for the city council to consider the graveling of the street to prevent a nuisance caused by dirt which is stirred up along the street by passing cars.

No action was taken on the request, and the matter was ordered referred to Street Commissioner A. C. Hasenjaeger.

Requesting that a supplemental contract be awarded to William Rohrbaker for $4500 to decorate the interior of the Charles W. Bowers museum which is under construction at the corner of Main and Twentieth streets, the city council received a letter last night from Terry E. Stephenson, president, and Lelia Minter, secretary, of the Orange County Historical society.

Martin Syversten, well known Pasadena interior decorator who has decorated some of the most famous buildings in this section, was recommended to the council to do the work.

The council took the matter under advisement.

DELAY ACTION ON PROMOTION REQUEST

A request made to the city council last night in a letter from Chief of Police Floyd Howard which was presented by Councilman E. G. Warner asking that Officer N. C. Nelson be promoted to the rank of sergeant of police, taken under advisement by the city council pending the return of Chief Howard who is on his vacation in Missouri. Nelson is now a patrolman who is acting as outside contact man for the police force, Acting Chief Harry Pink explained, and the promotion would add dignity to his position and be of benefit in other ways. His pay would be raised $5 a month if the promotion is granted.

Councilman J. L. McBride declared that he believed if any member of the police force was promoted that Officer J. W. Murray, who has been on the force since 1930 should be considered. Nelson has been on the force for about seven years.

L. Spencer, manager of the radio station.

Son and Daughter To Divide Estate

Mrs. Ada Dismukes, well known Santa Ana matron who died May 28, last left an estate valued at more than $10,000 and ordered it divided equally between her son and daughter.

A petition for probate of the will was filed yesterday by the daughter Zylpha Dismukes Cronewett, and the son Joseph W. Dismukes, both of San Francisco, who were named co-executors under the will.

ALLEE SAME TO HIM STOCKTON, Calif.—"Old Murphy," an old Chinese who made a sketchy living by singing Chinese songs of doubtful propriety, wore, all winter long a tattered, nondescript straw hat. Then, coincidental with Mayor Frank's proclamation naming straw hat day, "Old Murphy" blossomed forth in a felt hat he had dug up somewhere. Questioned by a newspaperman regarding his action, he shrugged his shoulders and said: "You no likee, I likee; no business, no new hat. Goodbye."

ECKLES ASKS FOURTH STREET TAXI STAND

The city council last night was asked to grant C. H. Eckles, proprietor of the Santa Ana Bus Service and Courtesy Cab Lines here, the right to reserve parking space on the southeast corner of Fourth and Broadway streets next to the Vandermaast store to be used to pick up passengers and drop them off. In a communication read to the council at the regular meeting.

Eckles further asked permission to establish a telephone booth on a separate post at the curb, to be used for calls to the main office. Neither of the requests, if granted, would interfere with the public traffic, the letter stated.

The requests were referred to Street Commissioner A. C. Hasenjaeger and City Engineer DeWitt Dudley.

THREATENS TO FILE SUIT FOR HEATER DAMAGE

Lena Wolford wants to know why the city won't pay for her water heater on South Sycamore street that was blown up more than a year ago when a fire hydrant was turned off suddenly. And what's more, she is going to sue the city after securing the signatures of five other property owners whose water heaters were blown up, if she fails to get paid, she told members of the city council last night when she appeared before them to demand payment for the heater.

Mrs. Wolford said that the heater at her home at the corner of South Sycamore and St. Andrews street had blown up at the same time five other heaters in the neighborhood had exploded. She said the city had turned the water off too fast and was responsible for the trouble. She said she had already consulted an attorney and had been told that the city had a right to pay for the heater.

Mayor Paul Witmer told her that

PROTESTS ON ASSESSMENTS ARE PRESENTED

Several property owners appeared before the city council last night to protest against the legality and amount of assessments on their property which is included in the assessment district for the improvement work on the intersection at Seventeenth street and Broadway. To make the matter legal, Dr. J. I. Clark presented a written protest, in which he declared that he lived more than 200 feet south of Seventeenth and had not even known that he was in the assessment district.

Dr. Clark said he was surprised to get a notice of assessment, and that the first time he inquired how much the bill was, he was told it was $35 and when he asked the second time it was $63. "I was afraid to ask again," he said.

Following the presentation of the protests, examination of assessment district maps, and statements regarding the amount of bills against property owners, the council unanimously adopted a resolution overriding the protests.

C. E. Waggoner, who resides at 1524 North Broadway, told the council his property was not benefited by the improvement. He was told that his assessment bill amounted to 69 cents, as he had but two feet of property in the district. Several other property owners protested against assessments, most of them because they were some distance away from Seventeenth street. City Engineer DeWitt Dudley explained that the districts were formed to run half way to each block both north and south, on Broadway, and that the district had extended quite a ways south because there was no through street until Fifteenth.

A former administration had investigated the matter and had refused to pay for the heaters and it was now out of the hands of the present council. City Engineer DeWitt Dudley said the heaters were old and had worn out their usefulness or they would not have blown up.

Good looks

Sparkling eyes and a smooth complexion depend on good health. The beautiful woman guards against constipation. She knows this condition can cause headaches, yellow skin, dull eyes, pimples, premature aging.

Protect yourself from constipation by eating a delicious cereal. Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN furnishes blood-building iron. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. How much safer than pills and drugs—no often habit-forming.

Two tablespoons daily—in various cases, with every meal—will correct most types of constipation. If your trouble is not relieved in this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"Ignorance Is'nt Bliss" Says Physician-Surgeon Lecturer

Ignorance might be blissful if it weren't that so much pain and misery are due to ignorance. Thousands today would have avoided unnecessary physical decline if they had "understood." The Clinic of the Air doctor will give an illustrated lecture Wednesday morning, June 8, in the Ebell Hall at 10 o'clock for women only. The lecture is illustrated and is a plain, simple heart-to-heart talk about conditions which physicians have difficulty to "get over." No woman, from eighteen to ninety, married or single, can afford to miss this lecture.

At 1:45 p. m. there will be a lecture for both men and women, the subject being "The Endocrine Glands as Directors of Brain and Nerves." Learn how to protect your glands, and you will save your brain and nerves many an insult and your vital organs will be able to function as nature has planned. This notice in the Santa Ana Register will admit one. Extra complimentary tickets may be secured from The K B Drug Company, Main and Sixth streets, Santa Ana.

SUNSHINE CLUB TO GIVE NEW PROGRAM

Tonight the Sunshine Music club, under direction of Grace Dennison Schaefer of Fullerton will present its second program over radio KREG. The first program presented last week by this group was entertaining and original. Considerable comment on the variety and quality of the program has been received at the studio in connection with this program.

In addition to the pianologue by "Sunshine and Sunny" which was such a success last week the following guest artists will appear on the program: Arthur Benfield, pianist; Miss Lois Dunham, reader; Mrs. Taylor Jacobson, soprano; Miss Irene Journaing, pianist and Melvin Morris, guitar soloist.

HARRELL SISTERS WILL BE ON AIR

Three well-known vocalists of the Pacific Coast, Misses Lucille, LaVerne and Lillian Harrell, who are making their home in Santa Ana, will be heard tonight over radio KREG. They will appear as the Harrell Sisters Trio.

Their presentation tonight will be a program of light classics, including "San' Man's Song," McKinney; "Chinese Song," from "East is West" by Bowers; "Gondola Song," Roberts; "Annie Laurie," and "We'd Better Bide a Wee," and "In Old Madrid," Trotter.

Miss LaVerne Harrell, who has a charming contralto voice will sing two solos "Invictus," Hughes, and "Cool is the Valley Now," by Komenich.

KREG NOTES

Erma Baxter, singing "Songs of Yesterday," has been put in a new spot on the daily broadcast. Starting tonight she will be on the air at 5:20 p. m. daily, instead of 5 o'clock.

"The Friendly Troubadour" has a new group of songs all ready for his presentation tonight. There are two classes of radio crooners, or rather a radi crooner is always one of two things; he is either excellent—or else. There is no halfway point in crooning. The Troubadour is excellent.

If you are really panting to get a load of gossip about Hollywood and the motion picture stars tune in at 8:45 tonight and listen to "A. P. Pingleton" and his Hollywood Keyhole program. He has a friend who cleans streets in the film city, and gives him all the dirt.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

Installation Ceremony Held By Woman's Club

OFFICERS FOR NEXT SEASON ARE INDUCTED

ORANGE, June 7.—A garden setting of unusual beauty provided the background for the impressive and beautiful installation of officers of the Orange Woman's club yesterday at the clubhouse, the meeting being the last of the year and the installation being conducted by Mrs. David G. Wettlin, outgoing president of the club. Previous to the installation, Mrs. Earl Crawford, selected as president by a nominating committee composed of last year's executive board, was unanimously elected to head the club activities for the coming year. Mrs. Crawford, a popular member of the club, held the office of curator last year and has served in many capacities during her membership.

A low white picket fence was placed at the back of the stage and porch chairs, a garden swing of colorful canvas, an arch of fern and scarlet trumpet flowers completed the setting, while swinging above were bobbing Japanese lanterns.

Officers were installed by the predecessors and were escorted to the stage from the lobby. Each carried an arm bouquet. Mrs. Crawford was in geranium red silk cut on simple lines and Mrs. Wettlin, who installed her, wore a frock of flowered chiffon. Mrs. Donald Smiley, also in geranium red, was installed as vice president by Mrs. A. Haven Smith in dark blue georgette. Mrs. V. A. Wood was the new second vice president and she wore apricot silk and was installed by Mrs. Lucien Flippin in a smart white silk sports suit.

Mrs. Ross Harlan, recording secretary, was installed by Mrs. Walter Kogler. Mrs. Harlan was in flowered chiffon as was Mrs. Kogler. Mrs. E. H. Smith, in orchid silk, was installed as treasurer by Mrs. E. P. Elin in a flowered yellow silk. Mrs. F. E. Hallman installed as corresponding secretary, Mrs. Walter C. Pixley, who wore a sports frock of yellow. Mrs. Fred Alden, new curator, wore a white sports frock with blue jacket and was installed by Mrs. Trafford Watson in white silk. New members of the board of trustees are Mrs. Henry Meier, who was in flowered chiffon; Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, in yellow flowered chiffon; Mrs. J. T. McKinnis in blue flowered chiffon, and Mrs. D. C. Pixley, who was in flowered black georgette.

Mrs. Jack Clayton, in aiding in the installation of directors, read an original verse in her ceremony. Mrs. Clayton wore peach lace and was assisted by Mrs. B. D. Stanley in pink lace. Mrs. Leon Dea Lazres will be the new parliamentarian.

Both Mrs. Wettlin and Mrs. Crawford made interesting talks. Mrs. Wettlin expressing her pleasure of serving for the past year and Mrs. Crawford outlining some of the plans for the coming year when the destinies of the club will be under her leadership. New members were special guests at the tea, which followed.

A FRANK CONFESSION

—A STATEMENT BY THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY

THE Gillette Safety Razor Company feels called upon to make a confession and a statement that are undoubtedly unique in the annals of American business. It is with deep regret and no little embarrassment that we do this in order to tell you frankly what actually happened when we introduced a new Gillette razor and blade.

Soon after this was done, we found that, although the great majority was pleased, some users complained quality was not up to standard.

We learned why. Our equipment had not been equal to the task of producing millions of blades at high speed without a certain variation in quality that affected a small portion of our output. As a result some blades that left the factory were not as good as you had a right to expect. Immediately we directed our principal effort toward the achievement of uniformity. Everything within our power was done to end variation. More than this—impossible as it seemed of accomplishment at the time—we set out to develop or find a better production process, having as a major requirement the elimination of varying quality.

We discovered and purchased for our exclusive use and at the cost of millions of dollars a manufacturing process that was amazingly superior to our own.

By this method, modern and automatic, millions of blades can be made at top speed without variation in quality.

We incorporated refinements of our own invention and installed the new machinery, throwing out all of our old equipment.

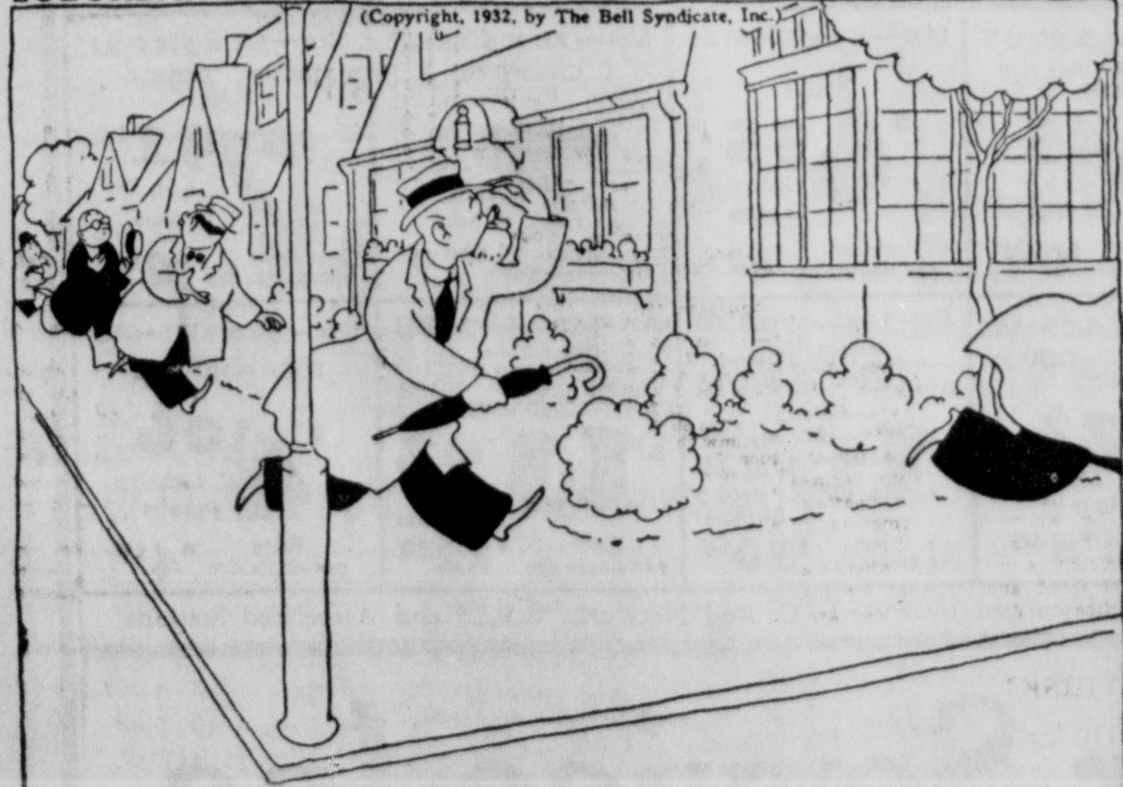

Now we announce today's Gillette blades, made by the new management. The usual superlatives have no place in this sincere statement of ours, so we will let the quality of the blades speak for itself. The green Gillette package remains unchanged, but the blades are new in every respect, quality, performance, and method of manufacture.

You can try today's Gillette blades without risking a cent. If you don't agree they are superior, return the package and your dealer will refund your money. Our reputation depends upon the proof of these claims. Being absolutely certain of the quality of these Gillette blades, we do not hesitate to make this statement over our signature.

The Gillette Blue Super-Blade

The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. Its extraordinary shaving performance will convince you that the Blue Blade is the sharpest ever produced. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package, Cellophane wrapped.

POLICE ARREST TWO DRIVERS ON DRUNK CHARGES

Two men were jailed last night after accidents charging them with driving while intoxicated.

Francis Beamer, 21, Irvine ranch worker, was lodged in the county jail at midnight following his arrest on a drunk driving charge, by Officer A. L. Steward, according to police records.

The arrest followed a complaint made by C. E. McFadden, of Capistrano, who told police that Beamer had crashed into his car while he was driving north on South Cypress street last night. McFadden said Beamer was driving on the wrong side of the street and "all over the road," and that Beamer had driven straight into him while he was trying to avoid the crash.

A physician pronounced Beamer

intoxicated and unfit to drive a car when he was examined. McFadden's car was damaged and was taken to a garage for repairs.

Crashing into a car owned by Grant McNulty, 609 Fruit street, while it was parked in front of his home, last night, G. N. Flores, 23, 124 Artesia street, was later arrested by Officer Carl Adams and was lodged in the county jail, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, according to records on file at the police station.

Flores was arrested later at the corner of Second and Bush streets after he had been stopped by Bill A. Nielson. A physician pronounced him unfit to drive a car.

He told officers that he could not remember hitting a car any place during the evening, but it was reported to police that Frank Valdez had attempted to stop Flores at the time of the accident and that Flores had speeded up his car and escaped.

Vagrants Ordered To Leave City

Two men who were loitering around the Smart and Final warehouse Saturday night were arrested by Officers Moulton and Pritchard and were booked at the county jail on vagrancy charges. Ralph Boyd of Phoenix, Arizona, and James Taylor of Texas, were the two men arrested. Both were Negroes. They were given 30 day suspended sentences by Judge Mitchell in the police court yesterday and ordered out of town.

BICYCLES STOLEN

Two bicycles were reported stolen over the week end and police returned another which had been recovered. Eugene Spessard, 1401 North Sycamore street, told police his bicycle valued at $10, had been stolen from the Walker State theater yesterday. Joaquin Tiscarin, 1329 West Fourth street, reported that his bicycle, valued at $12, had been stolen from Fourth street last night. Police recovered a bicycle belonging to Joe Kelsey, of Newport Road, Tustin, which had been stolen from in front of a theater here Saturday.

HERE'S A BEHIND THE SCENES STORY OF THE GREAT BUDGET BALANCING ACT IN CAPITOL

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The vast outburst of campaign oratory which is about to descend upon us will undoubtedly pass through the ears of some persons willing to believe everything they hear, but it is likely to encounter a much larger group of folks who won't believe a word of it.

The extraordinary performance of the administrative and legislative branches of government during the great budget-balancing act may be counted on to attract many new converts to the latter habit.

Apparently no one in Washington was really kidded about it. But it seems as if everyone had been earnestly engaged in trying to kid everyone else into believing that Congress was really balancing the budget. Everyone was, at least, until the day before the senate actually passed the huge new tax bill.

The Big "Surprise"

Then suddenly everyone began to yell, in effect: "Surprise! Surprise! We aren't balancing a budget at all. Where's their new estimates? Now we're really going to balance it. Ha, ha!"

That's no sillier than the facts themselves. On a Monday Congress was still balancing on the basis of treasury estimates of financial requirements made four months previously. Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills was still sticking to them—he had just said that "we cannot undertake to revise our estimates every month or two."

Of course the idea of balancing the budget is to make receipts equal expenses without going any further into debt. After all the breast-beatings and dire warnings of the past six months you might have thought more than one statesman would have pointed out that it might be better to try to balance the budget than to make a pretense of balancing it.

Estimates Out of Date

Everyone knew that the treasury estimates of February were no longer valid. Business had grown worse and the proposed new taxes obviously would raise much less than they were expected to raise last February and the receipts from existing taxes were bound to be lower than anticipated then.

The Mills estimates also included some $200,000,000 in debt payments which we probably won't get. Dexter M. Keezer, economist and correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, carefully and elaborately calculated that the proposed new taxes would raise $700,000,000 less than was necessary, even assuming a $300,000,000 cut in expenses.

Apparently everyone from the White House to Capitol Hill was too frightened to say anything or do anything about it. But in an astonishing change of attitude which came almost like a flash everyone became too scared not to do anything about it.

That Quick Change

On a Monday the estimate that the Senate Finance committee's new taxes would raise $955,000,000 in the next fiscal year and that new taxes and economies of $1,241,000,000 were required was still official. Tydings of Maryland had been demanding new estimates, only to be blocked by the leaders.

But late that same day Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, fresh from the White House, was warning the Senate frantically that it must not pass the tax bill it intended to pass that evening because it would miss balancing the budget by at least $200,000,000, which he said would mean forcing us off the gold standard.

Hoover Up at 5 a. m. Tuesday found President Hoover up at 5 a. m. preparing a special message, admitting everything, with which he rushed to the senate in person. It found Mills lowering his yield estimate to 840 millions and raising his requirement estimate to 1475 millions—a total upping in the estimate of 359 millions. And it found the senate writing an estimated added tax increase of 275 millions in its bill and passing the bill forthwith.

It all seems rather cockeyed, and it was. Apparently the awful truth suddenly dawned on the White House, the treasury and the leaders of congress they were not kidding anyone.

You have to sympathize with Ogden Mills. Treasury estimates of receipts have often gone far wide of the mark. The February estimates were brought in and the treasury then found itself wrong by about half a billion in its November estimates. Everyone, it appears, has been betting consistently on an upturn in business. But the general reticence to face facts until the pell-mell rush to do so at the last critical moment seems rather absurd or pretty terrible or something.

Santa Anan Discovers Mastodon Remains In Canyon

TUSK ON DISPLAY AT HOME OF JOHN ROMERO; FIND IS DECLARED TO BE GENUINE

The fossilized remains of a clam shell imbedded in a glacial morain deposit in a canyon of the Trabuco range 30 miles east of Santa Ana is responsible for the recent discovery of what is said to be the skeleton of the first Mastodon ever found in Orange county.

Only a portion of the remains, a fossil and stones in the deposit that he had stumbled onto some time ago. When he found the clam fossil he was certain and immediately began digging. Nine feet down he came upon the mastodon tusk and molar. He worked feverishly and painstakingly to uncover it. Because of the brittleness of the tusk during what is estimated at its approximately one million years of interment, Romero was afraid to take it out and not having the plaster of paris to make a cast around it he marked the spot well and returned home.

Recently Removed
Six weeks ago he returned to the spot with the necessary supplies but in the meantime the hole he had dug had caved in. For four days he labored with a hand trowel to uncover and encase his find before he was able to get it out. The cavern, however, had ruined about six inches of the point.

Found Last Winter
The discovery was made by John Romero, 1226 West Second street, local botanist and student of archeology, while on a plant hunting expedition in the Trabuco range last winter.

Romero is a full blooded Coahuila Indian, once the largest and most powerful tribe in California, but now reduced to about 19,000 members. He is a graduate of the Detroit Veterinary Dental college, and of the Sherman Institute at Riverside and has been engaged in botanical and archaeological research along the Pacific coast since 1899 when he was engaged by Sir Earlscliffe of the British Museum to assist in assembling what proved to be a remarkable collection of Pacific coast specimens.

For many months Romero has been engaged in making a complete collection of medicinal herbs used by the Indians for a New York museum. There are over 500 of these herbs indigenous to Southern California but only 23 of them are known to modern medical science, according to Romero. He now has a collection of over 100 of them gathered in Orange county.

It was while prosecuting his search for these plants that Romero stumbled onto the glacial deposit in his canyon. The mastodon, the location of which he refuses to reveal, Romero is enough of a geologist to recognize from

TREE PLANTING WORK NEARING COMPLETION

With the completion this week of the 1932 tree planting campaign of the board of forestry, the city will immediately begin a complete check of all old tree planting in the city. The control of street trees and shrubs is now entirely within the jurisdiction of the forestry board, subject to the approval of the planning commission and the city council, and the next effort will be to remove all trees now unsafe and to care for diseased trees, according to members of the board.

A systematic check of all streets in the city will be made for the purpose of pruning or removing trees which are hazardous to pedestrians and which present a safety factor for motor traffic at street intersections. Trees or tree branches which are dead and are a hazard to public safety will be removed. Trees will be pruned to better their appearance and trees which are not healthy will be treated, it is said.

Following the completion of tree planting, the crew of men handling this work will be released. The work for the rest of the year, tree watering, pruning and inspection will be carried on by one man.

BURGLARS GOBBLE 'PRE WAR' STUFF

In addition to $80 in cash, burglars who entered the home of Carl J. Dahms, corner of Whitler boulevard and Hacienda road, La Habra, Saturday night, and broke open a safe, obtained "loot" in the form of a pint of alcohol and a quart of whiskey labelled as "pre-war," according to a report filed at the sheriff's office.

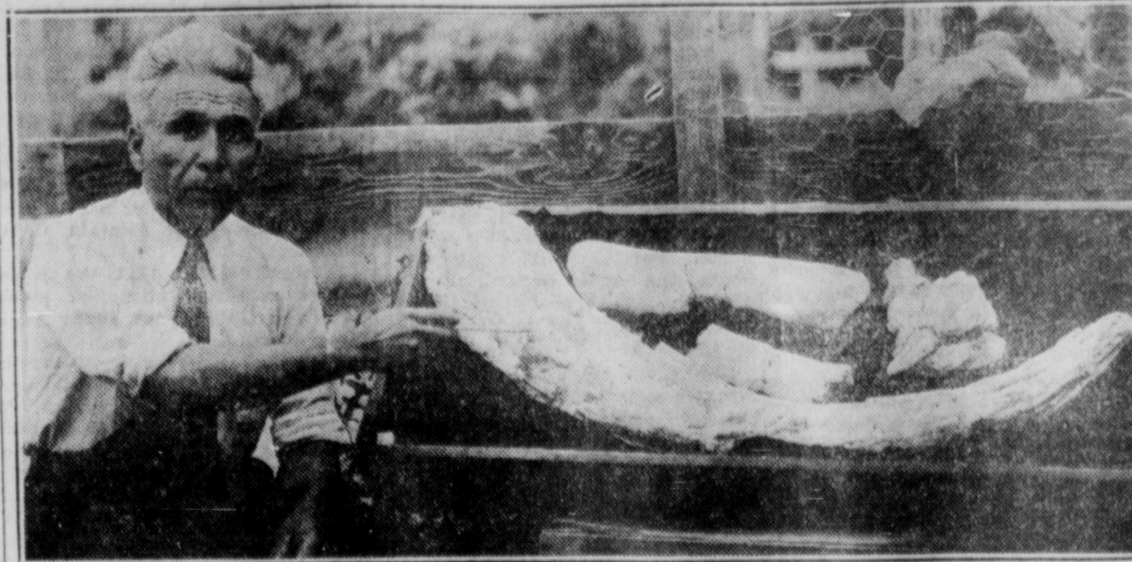

Entry to the house was gained by jimmying open a bedroom window. The burglars waited until Dahms had left to visit his wife at a hospital. A small safe, located in the bedroom, was broken open and rifled of its contents, which were the cash drawer and the liquor. Nothing else was taken, although dresser drawers were opened.

The burglary was investigated by Deputy Sheriff Nicholson, Dean and Zabel. Herman Zabel, identification expert, was unable to obtain any fingerprints, the report said.

Held On Charge Of Illegal Entry
Rebooked for H. C. Gerrish, newly arrived immigration inspector who has offices in the new Federal building here, Carlos Lopez, 19, 612 Cypress street, was being held today in the county jail on a charge of illegal entry to the United States.

MASTODON TUSK FOUND NEAR S. A.

John B. Romero, of 1226 West Second street, is shown below proudly displaying fragments of a huge Mastodon, remains of which he recently discovered in a canyon of the Trabuco range 30 miles east of Santa Ana. Romero is shown pointing to the six-foot ivory tusk which he took out after days of hard work. The two long flat objects immediately above the tusk are fragments of the prehistoric animal's jaw bone and the triangular object is a huge tooth still imbedded in a portion of jaw bone. —Photo by Rundell.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF GREAT DENOMINATION FOR BETTER CONDITIONS ARE OUTLINED

Analysis of the present economic situation by bishops of the Methodist church and recommendations for making recurrence of present conditions impossible, were discussed Sunday at the Religious Forum of the First Methodist church by J. F. Burke.

Burke read an analysis of the situation and the recommendations adopted at the General Conference of the church, held recently in Atlantic City. This analysis and group of suggestions were made, he said, by a committee in connection with the church's social program.

Analyzing the situation, Burke quoted the report in part. He said:

"Confronted by the spectacle of the breakdown of our social and economic structure with its toll of human want and misery it is clear that the church must not acquiesce in the continuance of the present status. An economic order that produces privileged classes has proved itself incapable of performing the elementary duty of providing the whole population with the means of existence and growth.

"The least definition with which the Christian conscience can be satisfied in that society is an organized cooperation for providing the largest possible measure of life for the greatest possible number of its members. Our present social order fails even to approximate this definition, for it produces a few incomes that are great beyond other need or reason while condemning large sections of population to adjacent want through no fault of their own. As our Bishops declared in 1930, 'we cannot escape the conclusion that a more equitable distribution of wealth is basic.'

Moral Defect A Cause
"The present economic order is un-Christian, unethical, and anti-social because it is largely based on the profit motive which is a direct appeal to selfishness. Selfishness is never morally right.

icy of unplanned competitive industrialism by planned industrial economy definitely aiming at the assurance of economic security.

"Modification of anti-trust laws. "Granting right of industry to organize in a definite way and regulate itself under Federal supervision.

"Creating and empowering a commission or commissions to regulate the industries organized under this permissive law.

"The offsetting of technological and general unemployment by shortening the hours of labor, thus providing that men shall not lose employment through the advancing excellence of machinery and providing also that labor shall share with capital in the advantage occurring from the advent of machinery throughout the industry.

"The introduction of unemployment insurance, accident and disability insurance, and old age pensions, planned and administered on the sound basis of actual experience.

"The abolition of child labor, which, in addition to its general value for child welfare, will release work now done by children, to adult workers.

"The turning of public income from economic waste of the building of armament to productive employment enriching the common life.

"We favor an investigation of the needs of the nation for public works to be carried on by federal, state and municipal agencies in periods of business depression and unemployment."

Garage Looted of Tools, Gasoline

Burglars stole articles valued at $74 from the garage of Charles Parsons, 1011 East Chestnut street, some time during the past three weeks, according to a report of the theft filed with police by Parsons.

The thieves had gained entry to the garage by breaking the door. Loot stolen included two storage batteries, a wood plane, two tires, a hand grindstone, 75 gallons of gasoline, two spotlights, an automatic screwdriver and other tools and a daybed.

VETS' DEATH FUND LIMIT IS INCREASED

More liberal allowances for burial expenses of deceased veterans became effective June 1, it was announced today by Harry D. Edwards, Veterans Welfare officer for Orange county.

Heretofore the Veterans bureau has allowed $100 to assist in defraying burial expenses of deceased veterans providing the net estate left by the deceased did not exceed $1000. Under the more liberal regulation now effective, this estate restriction is increased to a net estate of $3000. An American flag for use in the ceremony can be secured free by application at the post office in Santa Ana.

During the last year 60 burial claims have been filed by relatives of deceased veterans and of this number many were rejected because of the estate clause. Under the new ruling these cases may be reopened by application at the Veterans Welfare office at 514 1/2 North Main street, according to Edwards.

Man Escapes 30 Day Jail Term

Charged with disturbing the peace on a complaint signed by Rosa Potts, 1027 East Chestnut street, Harry Hudson, 33, of Santa Ana, was given a 30-day sentence in the county jail by Judge John G. Mitchell in the police court Saturday when he appeared to answer to the charge. The sentence, however, was suspended on the condition that Hudson does not molest the complainant in the future.

The arrest grew out of a complaint made by Mrs. Potts to the police that two men had broken down the front door to her home Thursday night and had entered the house where they proceeded to hold a party in spite of her protests. She claimed they had been drunk and had spilled whiskey on her floor. The other man was not arrested.

James Gilstrap Weds Long Beach Girl Tomorrow

A former Santa Ana woman will be wedded in Long Beach tomorrow when James Gilstrap of that city, a graduate of Santa Ana high school, takes as his bride, Miss Audrey Homer of Long Beach.

Mr. Gilstrap, who was prominent in student affairs while on the Santa Ana campus, was in the north two years attending the University of California at Berkeley, from which he returned to accept a position with the Petrol company in Long Beach, with which concern he is now identified. The couple will reside in Long Beach.

News of the engagement prompted a recent dinner in their honor, given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Winckler at their home, 2315 Fairmont avenue.

Dinner appointments were carefully planned to emphasize the wedding motif, a great white bouquet of bridal appearance centering the table, while other decorative effects were of appropriate type. Miss Thelma Lester of Long Beach was successful in capturing the prize presented to the winner at bridge, which followed.

Bidden to the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Norton, Miss Rowena Moore and H. P. Harrison of Santa Ana; Miss Marjorie Townsend, Miss Thelma Lester; Ernest Sullivan and Roger Williams, of Long Beach, in addition to guests of honor, Miss Homer and Mr. Gilstrap, and hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Winckler.

As Miss Louise Pee and Mrs. Charles Woodfill are to leave Sunday for Fort Wayne, Ind., where they will attend the national convention of Kappa Delta Phi, they were honored guests at the regular meeting of the local chapter of the sorority held last night in the home of Miss Estelle Schlesinger, 445 South Birch street.

A special feature of the evening was the presentation of many dainty handkerchiefs to the two honorees. They expect to remain in Indiana about a week, and from there will go to Washington, D. C., later going to New York. From there they expect to sail on The Dixie for New Orleans, returning home about July 10.

Miss Swanson Reveals Engagement to Carl Lykke

A formal tea, to which invitations were issued by Mrs. S. J. Swanson and her daughter, Miss Ruth Swanson, served as the charming medium through which the engagement of Miss Swanson to Carl Lykke was announced on Sunday afternoon. The affair had its setting in the Swanson residence at 118 East Oxford street and was attended by several scores of friends of the honoree and her mother.

Announcements, secreted within corsages of gardenias and presented guests in the patio of the home following the tea hour, revealed that wedding plans are laid for June 30.

Receive Guests
Guests were received by Mrs. Swanson, in orchid chiffon, and her daughter, in yellow organdy, in surroundings enhanced by the use of yellow snapdragons, pink gladioli and lighted tapers. The dining room was especially attractive with its silver tea appointments on a cloth of lace, its yellow tapers and centerpiece of golden flowers. Here Mrs. T. Rohack, an aunt, poured tea and directed the serving of sandwiches and petits fours with the aid of Mrs. W. E. Shull and Miss Charlean Shull of Riverside. During the tea hour musical selections were offered by Miss Hazel Stuckey and Miss Neva Fay Gerdes, whose numbers were announced by Miss Emma Williams.

Corsages were presented by Miss Martha Tadlock, who invited guests to the patio for this purpose. Both Miss Swanson and her fiancé are well known in Santa Ana. Miss Swanson having graduated from the Santa Ana high school since when she has been associated with the Harry D. Riley automobile agency. Her interest in music and dramatics has expressed itself in a year of voice study with Holly Lash Vise, Fine Arts club, in which organization she is a member of the field committee; and with a smaller dramatic group. She is also president of the Eleri club of this city and recently has become actively interested in the Santa Ana Community Players.

Identified with the Santa Ana Cabinet and Picture company, owned by her brother-in-law, Mr. Lykke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke of 609 North Van Ness avenue has centered his interests in this work. Like his fiancée, he attended the Santa Ana high school.

Pretty Luncheon Given As Farewell Courtesy To Iowan

Honoring Mrs. Anna C. Wells of Lemon Heights, formerly of Tustin, Mrs. Wells plans to spend the week of Mrs. C. A. Samuelson, 540 West First street, Tustin. Mrs. Wells plans to leave this week for her new home in Burlington, Iowa, and will be missed greatly by the host of friends that she has made in the community.

Mrs. Samuelson was assisted in her hostess duties by each of the guests, who brought her favorite dish as a compliment to the departing honoree. The delectable meal was served at a table centered with a graceful bowl of Cecil Bruner roses. Following luncheon, the guests were favored by several piano selections, played by Mrs. D. C. Benton. The afternoon was whittled pleasantly in reminiscences.

Those present in addition to the guest of honor, Mrs. Anna C. Wells, and the hostess, Mrs. C. A. Samuelson, were Mrs. A. A. Albee, Mrs. D. C. Benton, Mrs. Ida Auker, Miss Ethel Alderman, Mrs. N. L. Edson, Mrs. Lou Kinyon and Mrs. Mary Harbour.

Betrothal Inspires Affair Honoring Miss Wolford

Prompted by the approaching marriage of Miss Evangeline Wolford, to Daniel Jerry, date of which was recently made known, Miss Gladys McDonald entertained Saturday afternoon with a bridge luncheon, given in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe on North Main street.

Placecards and other luncheon appointments elaborated on a bridal theme, the honoree's place being marked by a bride in miniature, while covers for the bridesmaid cards. Masses of pink carnations lent further enhancement to the table.

Although bridge claimed the attention of guests during the greater part of the afternoon the principal feature of interest was represented in the presentation of lovely gifts of topaz glassware to the honoree.

Sharing in the presentation were Miss McDonald's guests: the Misses Estelle Roelands, Helen Benethin, Irene Schoolmeister, Margaret Kuhl and Helen Schoenberg; Mesdames Mae Ragan, H. L. Groover, Charles Wolford, and B. T. Spill, all of this city and Mrs. Florian Elckholt of Anaheim, besides the guest of honor, Miss Evangeline Wolford.

Husbands Accompany Ebbl Members on Short Trip

Accompanied by their husbands, members of the First Travel section of Ebbl society went to Banning Park yesterday, and from there continued to Terminal Island on an interesting day of sightseeing. A delicious covered-dish luncheon was enjoyed at the park.

Many and varied were the diversions which the island afforded. The Ford factory proved to be one of the most interesting stops of the trip, and although the group was not able to tour the plant, an idea of the detailed work going on inside was gained by watching the workmen from outside. The assembling of cars proved to be instructive as well as entertaining to the Santa Anans.

Those in the group were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. William Smart, Mrs. J. H. Rankin, Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave, Mrs. M. F. Heathman, and Mrs. Steven Ross.

Regular meetings of the section will be resumed in October.

S. A. Church Setting For Shaw-Mathews Marriage

Attired in white satin trimmed with lace, and carrying a bridal bouquet of salmon colored roses and maidenhair, Mrs. Mildred Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaudette of 1316 King street, spoke her wedding vows to Vernon Mathews, son of Newton Mathews of San Diego, at a beautiful ceremony taking place at the United Presbyterian church Sunday at 3 o'clock, with the Rev. O. H. Reinius, pastor of Richland Avenue Methodist church, officiating.

The service was preceded by a violin selection, "O Promise Me," played by Miss Peggy Warburton, accompanied by Harry Warner, organist. Lehigh's Wedding March heralded the entry of the bride party, which proceeded down the aisle to an arch of greenery, flanked by gladioli and yucca, which represented the altar.

The bride was accompanied by her two sisters, Miss Lillian Beaudette, in peach colored crepe, with bouquet of orchid larkspur, as maid of honor; and Miss Natalie Beaudette in yellow crepe, with larkspur of the same hue, as bridesmaid. Clarence Mathews, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March sounded the signal for the exit following the ceremony, when bride and groom adjourned to the Edwards Beaudette home for a reception tendered relatives and attendants. Here a wedding cake was cut and served, bride and bridegroom, the Misses Lillian and Natalie Beaudette, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaudette, Clarence Mathews and Burton Mathews, brothers of the bridegroom; Howard Paul and Harold Walker of this city, and Otis Tye of Long Beach.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Mathews will be established at once at 307 South Garvey street, deferring their wedding trip until later in the summer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mathews are Santa Ana high school graduates, having been members of the class of 1927. Both likewise have been in the employ of the Grand Central market of this city.

hall, their winter meeting place. Mrs. Hattie Perkins of North Cleveland street, Orange, was hostess and each member attending took some special dish for the luncheon served at noon. Pretty flowers were used to decorate for the event, and one of the members, Mrs. Emma Christian, brought mixed bouquets from her own garden, proving what beautiful canterbury bells, larkspur and other summer flowers, she has at her command.

Many quilt blocks were placed during the day, but sewing was laid aside during the afternoon as the members joined in showering handkerchiefs on Mrs. Martha Wubbin in anticipation of her early departure for France. Mrs. Wubbin has a hero son sleeping in France and will be one of the Gold Star Mothers to take the trip abroad this year. She will sail from New York on June 28, before the local group meets again.

Since the next meeting date would fall on July 4, it has been changed a week and will be held Monday, July 11 instead.

There were but a few Gold Star Mothers present at yesterday's session, but several guests were entertained, including Mrs. Warren and Mrs. McBeth of Huntington Beach, in addition to Mr. Perkins and other members of the family circle of the hostess; while members were Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Jennie Graves, Mrs. Iona S. Sharp, Mrs. Bessie Windham, Mrs. Edith Reynolds, Mrs. Martha Wubbin and Mrs. Emma Christian.

To this youthful ruler, each era in turn brought its gifts, small children in Indian characters, presenting spirited dances and songs. Following these were the gifts of Spain, offered by two graceful nines in a duo dance; four little maids with castanets, and several larger groups in Spanish dances.

The mission era was pictured by the sturdy youths garbed as the Franciscan padres whose influence has been so marked the length of the state. And then came the era of gold and the steady advance of the "Fortyniners," with the young people costumed in keeping with the age. One of the most effective features of this era in California history, was presented by a group of 14 graceful young people in quaint costumes dancing the Virginia reel, while another interesting phase was that of the group of harmonica players and one youngster with an accordion.

Japan brought her gifts of cherry blossoms and chrysanthemums, and cunning Japanese children did some dainty dances, followed by the tribute offered by China in equally pretty costumes, flowers and typical dances.

At the conclusion of these tributes to Queen California, that gracious young ruler in turn presented her gifts to "Miss Columbia," enacted by Miss Lucille Dehn, and then after tiny Barbara Lou Jones, as a fairy, touched each member of the group with her star-tipped wand, all joined in the salute to the flag and the songs, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" and "America."

Preceding this colorful pageant had been the ritualistic opening of the chapter, followed by installation of new officers by Mrs. S. W. Stanley. These were Mrs. M. M. Holmes, regent; Mrs. Henry Guthrie, vice-regent; Mrs. John L. Mitchell, recording secretary; Miss Artie Cleaveland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. E. Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Jennie Crawford, registrar; Mrs. C. C. Chapman, chaplain, and Mrs. Cotton Mather, historian.

A request was made by the regent that anyone with relics of historical interest make arrangements for presenting them or lending them for display in the Bowers museum, now under construction.

To conclude the afternoon, the hostesses served refreshments at beautifully appointed tables in the section rooms, with special tables for the young people of the pageant, arranged in the peacock room. In addition to members of the Santa Ana chapter there were many guests present from Fullerton chapter.

Pageant of Historical Interest Given for D. A. R. Chapter

What has been an unusually interesting year for Santa Ana chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, reached its climax Saturday afternoon, when a sextet of hostesses presided at a tea program in Ebbl patio before the chapter lapsed its activities for the summer months. Mesdames I. R. Hendrie, chairman, W. H. Hadson, Mac Robbins, Georgia Bradley, Joseph H. Metzgar and R. H. Purpus comprised the hostess group, while the unique entertainment of the afternoon was planned by Mrs. Edith Thatcher.

This was a pageant, presented in the charming setting afforded by the clubhouse patio, and depicting the various eras of California history. Mrs. Thatcher had written the whole affair, and its flowing and melodious style was interpreted beautifully by the hundred or more young people taking part.

These were rehearsed in their parts by Miss Claire Coutant of the Claire Coutant school of Dancing, and their finished performance gave charming glimpses of the past through the medium of song and dance. Little Miss Emily Bouchant of Tustin was a regal little Queen California who was seated on her flower throne after Mrs. Thatcher's introductory passages.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

A Mayonnaise Secret

I have a cooking secret to whisper in your ear that puts me between Scylla and Charybdis: on the one hand its means buying more evaporated milk, and on the other hand it means cutting down the oil consumption when making mayonnaise. But my own private chuckle is all about cutting down the fat calories that used to lurk in all-oil mayonnaise. But let me get on with my story:

Last Sunday morning I was warned by my son-and-heir that a crowd would be in for supper after the afternoon swim, and every mother knows what that means... FOOD!

I needed a quart of mayonnaise, and found myself short on oil when it was half made, with none available on that day. So, I decided to take a chance and see what evaporated milk would do to the partially mixed mayonnaise. The mayonnaise was quite thick, you see, and lemon juice was used in place of vinegar.

A half can of chilled milk was opened and carefully dripped into the mayonnaise along with a few drops of lemon juice. The pint of oil, two eggs, seasonings, and the juice of three lemons absorbed the full can of milk without the least trouble. The finished mayonnaise was fluffy and delicately flavored and altogether satisfactory.

nish the outside with some colorful cooked vegetables like cubed carrots mixed with green peas. The center can be filled with anything you desire—creamed shrimp, crab, chicken or hard cooked eggs in a cream sauce, or perhaps all vegetables, the center one done in sauce.

This good-looking dish serves as the main dish for either luncheon or the home dinner. A crisp salad, or radishes and green onions, and a simple fruit dessert are its partners.

The calory total for the noodle wreath amounts to 1380, mostly the energy-making type. The vegetables and filling will add at least a thousand to this total. The dish serves eight people.

The versatile Sandwich outdoes itself in the current leaflet. There you will find sandwiches for the hurry-up snack or the little supper you like to serve after an evening of cards. You may have this leaflet free this week by mailing me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wednesday I am going to talk about my own way of making shrimp salad and the dressing I like best with it.

LAGUNA BEACH BACKGROUND OF GARBO SCENES

Beautiful natural background near Laguna Beach was borrowed for some of the most important scenes in "As You Desire Me," Greta Garbo's latest picture, current at the Fox Broadway theater.

Here the Italian "Feast of Midsummer," a traditional celebration for lovers, was reproduced with scores of native boats pushing out to sea to meet the rising sun.

Originally, the water holiday was regarded as a pagan festival. Now, however, it is called St. John's Eve and is annually observed on the Adriatic, where small boats are launched in the surrounding break of day to the accompaniment of romantic songs, sung and played by the boating sweethearts.

For these scenes, Fitzmaurice used a portable sound recording system, placed in the camera boat which accompanied the craft in which Miss Garbo and Melvyn Douglas, her leading man, sailed. The unusualness of the setting is said to have given a unique pictorial value to the scenes.

MONTGOMERY FILM ENDS RUN TONIGHT

British races, a London playhouse, and the gathering place of the high society in the British capital are woven into luring romance and comedy interlarded with a delightful love story, in "But the Flesh is Weak," new Robert Montgomery starring picture which closes tonight at the Fox West Coast theater.

The picture, based on Ivor Novello's London and New York stage success, "The Truth Game," shows Montgomery as a debonair and aristocratic London fortune hunter—who tries to marry for money until another girl comes along with whom he falls in love.

His Astor, Edward Everett Horton, Nora Gregor and C. Aubrey Smith support Montgomery. The picture has played to exceptionally large houses here.

Whether you are wet or dry, Republican or Democrat makes no difference. You will enjoy the Democratic National Convention at High School Auditorium Friday night—Adv.

THE TINYMITES
 STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KING

© 1932 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The rocket made a great big cry right through the tent. "I'll bet this is going to lead to some trouble," said wee Duncy. "Shall we run?"

"We all can climb right down from here and get away from what I fear. Or maybe we had better stay and hope for lots of fun."

"The latter plan suits me the best," said Scouty. "First of all, we'll rest right up here on the canvas. It's as comfy as can be."

"I'm going to stretch out a restmy head. Just try it. It is like a bed. And then we'll climb down to the ground and see what we can see."

... ..

All of the Tinsies tried the plan. It wasn't long until a man looked up and saw the big, long rip. "What's happened here," he cried.

"Why, look! A rocket's broken through. I'm sorry, 'cause the tent was new." And then he jerked the tent until the rocket fell inside.

"Poor Duncy! He was right nearby and all the others heard him cry, 'I'm falling! Someone help me, or I'll land upon the ground.'"

They tried to grab him. 'Twas too late. He toppled through at quite a gait. Some circus people saw him and they promptly gathered 'round.

... ..

"Well, who areyou?" one man cried out. "And what's this rocket all about?" "I'm just a little Tiny-mite," said Duncy with a grin.

"Four of us whizzed right through the air and then we fell. My, what a scare! Our rocket hit your tent. That's how it happened to fall in!"

"Well, so? gruff man then cried, "Well, son! Perhaps you think you've had some fun, but now you're going to work a bit. So will the others, too!" In uniforms they all were dressed. The man then said, "Now, do your best! I want those big stakes driven in the ground. It's up to you."

Council, Budget Reach Compromise In Beach Fee Case

FORMER CITY ATTORNEY TO GET $11,250

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 7.—Lewis W. Blodgett, former city attorney of Huntington Beach, is to receive $11,250 from the city in settlement of his suit for $13,250 as a fee in the beach title litigation the city brought and won in court from the Huntington Beach company, Pacific Electric company and Standard Oil company, and by which the city acquired a perpetual easement over the beach from the east city limits to Main street, about 3200 feet of ocean frontage.

Drop Suit Plans
A compromise settlement of the beach suit fee was made public at the council meeting last night, when on motion of Councilman Chris H. King, seconded by Councilman J. Ed Huston and carried unanimously, Attorney D. G. Wetlin, representing the city, was instructed by the council to withdraw his motion for a new trial in the case. Blodgett was awarded a verdict against the city in a superior court and the city moved for a new trial.

During the past week at conferences between the members of the city council, the mayor and their attorney, the matter of a compromise settlement was discussed. Attorney Wetlin is said by councilmen to have been willing to continue the litigation, but at the same time advised that a compromise is usually advisable in a lawsuit.

The settlement, according to members of the council, provides that Blodgett will accept $2000 less than he was awarded by the committee of three attorneys, the committee fixing his fee at $11,250. He had previously been paid $1750, leaving $13,250 balance. This amount the city had been ordered to pay in the superior court decision.

Overacker Gets $1000
Ray Overacker, then assistant to Attorney Blodgett, now city attorney here, will receive $1000 under the award made by the attorneys who fixed the rate of pay for Blodgett and also for Overacker. With the settlement of this matter of attorney fees, the beach title dispute is closed, the city being in possession of a large section of its most desirable beach front at only the cost of litigation. At one time prior to taking the matter into court, the city was ready and had agreed to pay the corporation claiming title to the beach, a total of $232,000 for the land later won in the lawsuit.

Ordinances fixing license fees for trucks and businesses in the city and an ordinance fixing the fee for oil derricks were read by City Clerk C. R. Furr and passed on second reading. An ordinance was introduced on first reading fixing a charge of $10 for the use of Memorabilia by individuals or organizations making a profit out of the entertainments or meetings held at the hall. The ordinance went over until the meeting of the council next Monday morning at 10 o'clock when action will be taken on it.

Legion Given $100

The council granted $100 to the American Legion post of this city to aid in entertaining the first annual "pilgrimage" of the 21st district of the American Legion to be held at the beach here June 25 and 26. The district includes Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties. The Legion auxiliary will hold its district conference at the same time and about 500 visitors are expected here, according to the council.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her levellest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unbundled her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:—

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost a considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way. I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which are: Bust 40, hips 43½, waist 32½, inches, which is normal for my height, which is 5 feet 8 inches. My husband is a very severe critic. He says: 'I look five years younger.' There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen Salts. I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. R. London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

But remember—lose fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at McCoy Drug Co. (2 stores) or any drugstore in the world, and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not pay until you satisfy you—why money back—(Adv.)

According to announcement made to the council by L. E. Mitchell and Herb Gray, who appeared before the council last night in behalf of the Legion, Councilman E. B. Stevens moved the granting of the $100 and the motion was seconded by Councilman John H. Marion and carried unanimously.

Harry Bateson, who recently was granted a permit to operate a fishing boat from the boatlanding at the municipal pier, in a letter to the council, said the project would not be financially profitable and asked that the permit be cancelled. The council granted his request. Bateson said his boat, the "Blossom," carried only 15 passengers and was not large enough. He said he might try the project later with a larger boat.

$49,638 In General Fund
The city treasurer's and city clerk's combined reports showed a balance of $49,638.61 in the general fund. The music and promotion fund was shown to be $1502 in the red. The various bond funds carry the required amounts, swelling the total city funds to $11,529.21, but only the general fund is real spendable money.

The council meeting set for next Monday is to consider the city budget and city finances. It is reported that the city faces a $75,000 shortage by January 1, 1933, unless expenses are cut, or revenues increased.

SEWAGE DATA PRESENTED AT BOARD SESSION

PLACENTIA, June 7.—Ralph McFadden, member of the Orange conservation committee of the Orange County Farm bureau, last night, told members of the Placentia sanitary district that in time owners of property along the ocean front will demand that all sewage waters that flow into the ocean be purified first. McFadden talked at the Placentia city council meeting, where members of the sanitary board were guests. He told of the need of sewage reclamation from the standpoint of water conservation as well as from the sanitary standpoint and presented figures of the cost of a proposed sewage reclamation plant for Orange county.

Members of the sanitary board attending were Arthur L. Anderson, A. M. Christensen and Oliver Schumacher.

Councilmen withheld action on requiring aluminum salesmen in the city to have licenses. City Judge T. E. Pickrell reported $38 collected in fines during the past month. Councilmen attending were Mayor or Clarence E. Haiber, A. O. Schallenger, Andrew Ipsen, C. R. Young and City Clerk Nellie M. Cline. City Attorney W. B. Wade, City Engineer William Bates and L. T. Allredge, president of the farm bureau.

Sherman Taking Tahiti Scenes

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7.—It seems that the South Sea island of Tahiti is trying to emulate Southern California as a swordfish anglers' paradise, but according to word received here, the sharks there are the beneficiaries. Last year, when more than 200 marlin swordfish were caught at Newport and Balboa alone, not one case was reported where the sharks stole the swordfish from the fisherman's hook, but according to the report of H. L. Sherman, who is spending a few months there, while the snarled swordfish is battling with his human adversary, the sharks generally get the fish and all that the angler gets for his efforts is the head and the sword from his quarry.

Although the Tahitians are enthusiastic film fans and at least two South Sea pictures have been made in that little French colony, they are away behind the times in flimdom, Sherman writes. Movies taken several years ago are only appearing there in their theaters now.

Sherman on this trip, which he will spend entirely at Tahiti, will take some pictures with his present equipment, which includes one of the latest and most up-to-date moving picture machines.

All children in the community are cordially invited to attend this school.

BUSINESS MEN URGED TO SEEK PUBLIC OFFICE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 7.—Paul Clagstone, western representative of the United States Chamber of Commerce, for this district which includes 17 states, was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the chamber of commerce at the Coffee Cup cafe Monday noon. Clagstone attended the national meeting of the chamber held in San Francisco April 15.

Clagstone discussed the tax problem, the anti-trust law and the government activity in business. He opposed the Sherman anti-trust law and said that it was opposed by the chambers of commerce of the nation. He urged that business men be elected to the state legislature and to congress, declaring they were most fitted to set in those bodies, which he declared were dominated by lawyers.

He deplored the government engaging in business, claiming such government activity worked to the disadvantage of the manufacturer and hence to the disadvantage of factory employees. He urged each chamber to take action on national questions in order that the national chamber might acquaint the government with the wishes of the people.

Ted Craig, member of the state legislature, was introduced at the meeting as the guest of J. S. Farquhar, President W. R. Osborn of the chamber presided at the meeting and the following members were present: D. R. White, W. S. Ebert, C. G. Ward, H. M. Hepburn, R. G. Miller, J. S. Lawshe, J. E. Cook, W. J. Bristol, C. R. Furr, J. Ed. Huston, A. H. Dixon, Verna Keller, chief of police; Ted Craig, Dr. E. L. Hogan, R. G. Lindley, Mrs. Jennie Hubbard, Judge C. P. Patton, L. E. Mitchell, J. S. Denny, Roy F. Patrick, H. S. Young, Dr. B. Stevens, E. G. Conrad, Dr. Lawrence Whitaker, Lee Chamness, J. S. Farquhar, Paul Clagstone, W. R. Osborn, Mrs. May S. Jackson.

A. H. Dixon had read a letter from Charles F. Potter, of Pasadena, a Huntington Beach property owner, who expressed his opposition to plans to drill on the beach and expressed approval of the chamber's resolution opposing drilling on the beach.

Few Accidents In Harbor Area

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7.—Although an enormous amount of traffic passed over the highways and streets in the harbor district, comparatively few automobile accidents were reported. Over the weekend end, Donald Stafford, of Corona Del Mar, while driving across Newport Heights, collided with a car driven by Mrs. Irene Hargett at the intersection of Fifteenth street and Orange avenue. Mrs. Hargett resides on Broad street. She had riding with her, Miss Lona Stevenson. All received minor cuts and bruises which were treated at the Newport hospital.

A roadster driven by Clifton P. Rendell, of the U. S. S. Stoddard, now stationed at San Diego, struck the roadster of Pola Buckley as she was passing the intersection on the Coast highway at the Arches. No damage was done to either driver or cars. Miss Buckley resides in Santa Ana.

A hit and run driver took the handle off the door and damaged a fender of a roadster being driven by L. St. Clair, of Los Angeles, as his car was parked on Central avenue near the Twin Palms hotel.

Placentia Church Typewriter Stolen

PLACENTIA, June 7.—Among many other petty robberies reported over the week end at Placentia was a new typewriter stolen from the office of Don Milligan, assistant pastor of Calvary church.

Reports are that Sunday night a great number of small articles were taken from Placentia residents, including lawn mowers, garden hose and other articles.

CANCELLATION PASTOR URGES OF WAR DEBTS ATTENDANCE OF DECLARED NEED YOUNG PEOPLE

FULLERTON, June 7.—Stating that war debts from foreign countries to America must be eliminated before there was any solution for Germany's economic problems the Rev. Graham C. Hunter spoke to the Fullerton Kiwanis club yesterday noon on "Implications from the Political Change in Germany."

He said that much of the present world-wide unrest was traceable back to the war debts and said that this country should be willing to cancel in the event that France would join with the other countries of the world in a general disarmament program.

The present economic difficulties in Germany, he stated, was caused by a widespread misery through the entire nation, a political unrest and an all-pervading fear caused by the depression.

The United States can not isolate itself and confine its interest only within itself, he said. The interest of this country has recently become international and is vitally interested in the welfare of Germany. He cited the Dawes plan, the Young plan, the more recent Hoover moratorium to show that this country was greatly interested in Germany's welfare.

SERGEANT IMPROVED

FULLERTON, June 7.—John Gregory, police sergeant, is expected back to his duties within the next day or so after being confined to his home for over a week as the result of a minor operation.

PASTOR URGES ATTENDANCE OF YOUNG PEOPLE

BREA, June 7.—"The Church and the Whirlwind" was the topic of the sermon of the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, pastor of the Brea Congregational church, Sunday morning. "For they have sown the wind and they shall reap the whirlwind" was the text taken by Pastor Gaylord.

He said in part: "Our text, a terrific simile, was not made, of course, regarding the church, but is applicable to our church today. Our church services are attended almost wholly by adults today. Such a serious matter. The wind which tomorrow's church will reap as a whirlwind. I know it is a difficult task to bring the young people, when they do not come of their own volition. They do not take to it easily. A trial or so may have failed to attract. They do not seem to be natural worshippers, and we do not like to force them by making our young people do something they do not want to do, fearing to turn them bitter, which is not supposed to be good training. 'I am convinced they should be in church. They have to go to school unless they are sick. Our young people think they are doing us a favor by supporting the church work.'

There are other discouragements, as little support at home, perhaps a divided interest there. I am unconvinced, for the reaping of the whirlwind has already begun, as shown by the attitude of the young people in their resentment of discipline, which is quite to be expected, since we make our children go to school but not to church. What conclusions will they naturally draw as to relative values? It is a very serious situation. The reaping of the future, by a Godless youth. What else can we expect, when sons and daughters of good church people do not know the meaning of church attendance? 'Even the parents seem indifferent, for a very serious situation seems to have passed us by, or else resignation would be impossible. Yet the facts are these: young people must experience religion between the ages of 12 and 20 or 25, as few discover it for themselves afterward. Thus we are allowing our children to grow up to be among the unchurched and therefore are practically godless. What is the remedy, you say? The parents' responsibility. I claim to be no expert here, but I remember my own experience, and I am not entirely ignorant on the subject. This ought to be a family matter as it has been from the beginning, a shared experience. Family prayers are disappearing, although they prove a great stay in time of need, tragedy or disappointment. In great trouble man either grows desperate, takes to drink or turns to God. This is a terrifyingly serious matter. Thus I have dared to be so very frank. Will you be angry with me? Or can we see the danger ahead? What are we sowing for tomorrow?"

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM FOR BEACH TRACT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 7.—The city council met in regular session last night in the city hall, with Mayor Hermann Hilmer in the chair. The building inspector's report showed the issuance of building permits to the amount of $23,685 for May.

James Macklin, of Huntington Beach, asked for the co-operation of the council in clearing certain streets in the Sea Side colony tract, giving as his reason that a building program is contemplated on lots owned there by himself and some of his clients. A dozen or so permits were asked for the building and improving of private piers in the bay.

During the evening a communication was read stating that the Corona Del Mar site for the disabled war veterans' hospital was being very favorably considered at Washington.

Councilman Irvin George Gordon was appointed by the mayor to sit in a committee with the men who have a permit to run live bait boats from the pier here and try to work out a set of workable rules for the governing of their operation. He will report back at the next council meeting.

POSTMASTER RETURNS

FULLERTON, June 7.—John Horner, postmaster in Fullerton, was expected back today from the United States Naval hospital in San Diego, where he has been undergoing treatment for several weeks. He is much improved and will not have to submit to an operation at this time.

CITIZENS ORDER CUTS

Last night a speaker representing the Civic League, addressed an audience of 1000 or more citizens in the High School auditorium. He presented forcefully and quite vividly, the economic situation in the country, and in the county, with particular reference to the increased tax burden. He presented to the audience a letter directed to the office-holders in the county, "demanding" a decrease in the expenditures of the county of some 25 per cent.

We presume that the speaker had thought this matter out, but from our viewpoint, such a suggestion, if it is expected to be done at once, is utterly impossible. There are some elements of expenditure which are fixed, and in which no decrease can be made, like interest charges. The only manner in which such a reduction could be made is in those monies over which the officials have control.

In this respect the officials should make a 25 per cent reduction or even more. The figures upon which the speaker based the argument for this demand, would certainly justify the position he took, and which the taxpayers should insist upon finally reaching. The figures which were presented, and which were hung on a banner behind the speaker, showed, that within the past five years the total expenditure had increased in the county some 50 per cent. And in the last 23 years had increased some twenty-one fold. But referring particularly to the increase during the past five years, certainly it is not too much to ask all those conducting our public corporations, that they reduce expenditures to the conditions of five years ago.

There are very few business enterprises that haven't been cut at least 40 per cent, and some of them much more, in their income. When managers are confronted with these cuts, it isn't a question of what should be done, it is a question of what must be done. And the cuts of expenses are made to meet the income, or the company promptly becomes bankrupt. The speaker of the evening was simply applying business principles to the government.

To be sure, the difference between government and business is that the officials can keep up the income in a fashion by increasing the tax rate, even though property goes down in value. But as the speaker emphasized, this is causing the confiscation of property, which eventually, if continued, being owned by the government, will drive the nation into a system whereby the people would have to be working for the government, rather than for private parties.

We doubt seriously if the public official realizes the situation. We note that some of them who have been the most pronounced in leading us into this very morass, are now pretending to run for re-election on a platform of "economy." Our observation would suggest that when the people, under this leadership, have been led to an increase of costs, like some wages being increased even during the past year, that they do not know either the exigencies of the situation, or what economy means.

The vote by the audience, favorable to the sending of this letter, was remarkable in its unanimity. While there was one vote against, this emphasized the united judgment of the group as being favorable to some specific action. And this specific action was for this percentage of cut.

The speaker probably showed wisdom in not going into detail in pointing out how this should be done, for the multitude of people had nothing to do with the increase, though small minorities may have been doing it.

When superintendents and foremen receive word to cut down 25 per cent, because of the necessities of income of a large institution, in order to retain their positions, they make the cut. If there is a sufficiently strong demand in the county for such specific cuts, the cuts will either be made, or there will be men elected to office who will make the cuts.

MR. DAWES RESIGNS

We notice that Mr. Dawes has resigned from the chairmanship of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Mr. Dawes is spoken of as a "financial leader." In these later years, there has been quite a change in the conception of the type of man and financial "genius," who should direct the financial affairs of our government, from that of the early days of our Republic.

There are two classes of men in finance. There is the one who thinks of finance in the large way—in the interest of the public weal. He is thinking of what is wise and fair and proper for the government and the people. There is another kind who is thinking of it constantly in terms of personal profit for himself or his group or his organization.

The greatest financier this country has ever seen, without question, was the first secretary of the treasury, Alexander Hamilton. But Alexander Hamilton never thought of the money in terms of enriching himself. Mr. Hamilton was a poor man. He had to give up public office in order to go back to New York to make a living in the practice of law. But he did think in terms of national interest, of big finance for the public good. The same was true of Albert Gallatin.

But in recent years we select men for position who are thinking entirely in terms of personal profit or of profit for their groups. They are interested in taxes from that angle; interested in the tariff from that angle. An effort has been made through the Constitution and the law to prevent this kind of man from occupying such a position, by insisting that he shall not receive an appointment to the Secretaryship of the Treasury if he is interested in institutions that are affected by the tariff, etc.

But if one will trace this, and look at it in a clear and unbiased manner, he will find that the men in recent years selected to do this work, have been men with such a financial interest in getting privileges for their particular articles, like aluminum, that there has been a failure to look after the interest of all the people, as well as an undermining of public confidence.

In England it has not been so to so large a degree, certainly not under the direction of the Labor party. Philip Snowden, the financial wizard who pulled the nation out of the slough of despond, and balanced the national budget, is a man of the type of Hamilton. There are such men in the country, but they are not to be found in Wall Street or in what Wall Street represents. They will be found in our institutions of learning, where they are studying the matters from the standpoint of national rather than of personal interest.

VIRTUES VS. PROFITS

The opinions of John D. Rockefeller, jr. were heralded today as being in favor of the repeal of the 18th amendment. We wonder if it would be amiss to give a word concerning some confidential information received from an organization that makes the business of learning "inside" facts and giving them out.

Two months ago we received the regular weekly report from such an organization, which furnishes us with this information. It stated that at the proper time John D. Rockefeller, jr. would make a statement, coming out for the "wets." We have been looking for it ever since. Isn't it a striking fact that such information would come out 60 days ahead of time, and then just a few days before the Republican convention, it should be made public, so that it would have its strong effect?

The army that is supporting the 18th amendment was augmented at a certain period by a large number of big financial men, who came to our aid because they believed they saw that prohibition was PROFITABLE. Now that they are seeking "profits," and believe in one way and another that a change might stimulate, if not permanently make things better, they are turning in any direction for "profit."

Some of them are desirous of saving taxes, and they believe that the placing of a tax upon liquor and then licensing the liquor sale, will accumulate a vast amount of taxes from the great mass of the people, and thereby save taxes for the individuals who otherwise would pay very considerable. The Duponts declare that such a tax would save them $10,000,000 of taxes of their own a year.

So now comes Mr. Rockefeller, the second or third, if not the richest man in the United States, and joins the group, and primarily explains it on a financial basis, as he tells the amount that he and his father contributed to carry the country for prohibition.

In a way, it is well to get stripped down to fighting form. The money that is being contributed to carry on the "wet" propaganda comes from those who expect to make PROFIT out of the return of liquor, and unfortunately, a large amount of the sum contributed to make the country "dry" came from those who expected to make PROFIT out of prohibition conditions. It is PROFIT in it in either case, that makes the contest.

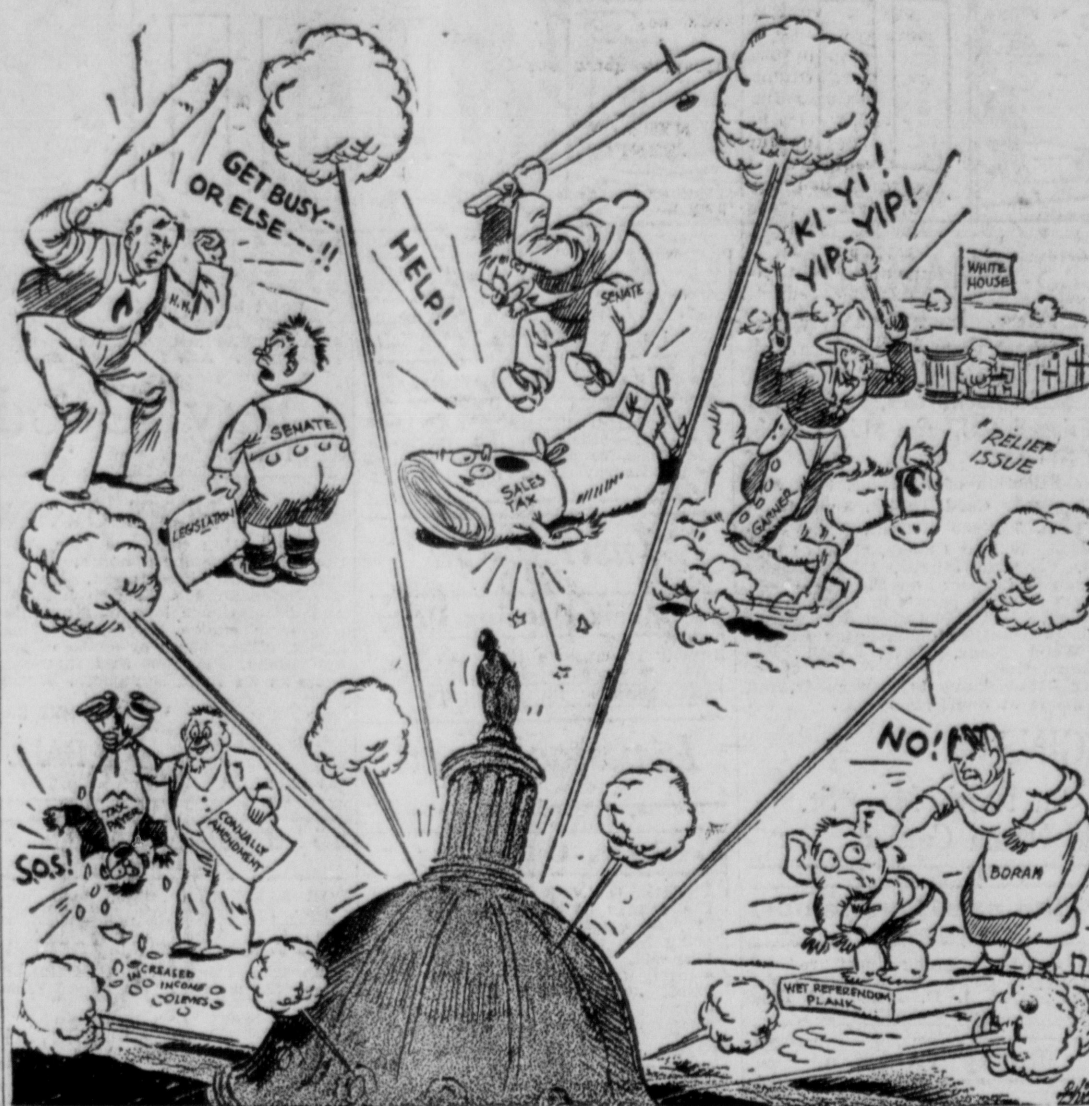

The power of the movement was steady and kept increasing during that period when the people who led it and contributed toward it were doing so, not because there are material PROFITS in it, but because they believed that sobriety was a virtue, and that the exploitation of such sobriety, by a partnership between private interests for greed, and the government for taxes, was an unholy and impossible alliance. We are among those who maintain that position, and we are anxious to see all of the desertions from the cause most speedily.

New York Times
To read Drs. Truesdell, Egloff and Morell, research chemists, in World Petroleum, is to confirm the conclusion that man is beyond understanding—particularly if he drives a car. It seems that he is as fastidious about his gasoline as he is about his breakfast eggs. It may be as white as water; it may be red, blue, green or amber; but it must not be yellow.

In the days when there were only two or three million automobiles in the country, gasoline was by nature white. Now it is by nature yellow, because it is produced by "cracking" heavy oils. White or yellow, there is no difference in quality. "It gums," say nine drivers out of ten of yellow gasoline in their cocklebug ignorance.

When ethyl gasoline was introduced, it was dyed red to distinguish it from other varieties. Something like a fad for colored gasoline was thus created. But yellow is still taboo. Refiners have given up their educational efforts. Yellow gasoline must be bleached with sulphuric acid, which is expensive, or tinted some fashionable hue.

Just Another "Quiet" Day Along the Potomac!More Truth Than Poetry

WARNING!

The scientists I venerate:
To them both men and nations
Forever will be under great
And lasting obligations.
Yet in my breast I feel a quake
When these lads get together
And prematurely undertake
To regulate the weather.

Suppose today I hope for rain
The while my rural neighbor,
Who has his livelihood to gain
By toilful farming labor,
Prefers a hot and growing spell
To give his fruit a flavor,
How can a man of science tell
Which one of us to favor?

Suppose the sailors want a breeze,
While landmen have the notion
To take their calm and pleasant ease
Beside a quiet ocean;
How can a scientist decide
By any mental reaches,
Which one shall have his tossing tide,
Which one his easeful beaches?

Here men will always disagree;
In this abstract dominion
There cannot ever fall to be
A difference of opinion.
This scheme is going to be a flop;
This course has not been charted;
It's one that science better drop
Before it gets its started.

PRACTICALLY EPIDEMIC

Europe started the idea of nonpayment of debts, and now it has spread over here.

QUITE A SURPRISE

It begins to look as if a lot of bankers have been yes-men.

A QUALIFICATION

A Russian has been insisting that the United States needs a dictator. Maybe a dictator—but not Red.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

"If the nation cheers when Mr. Hoover says, 'Tut, tut,' think how it would respond to a real crisis word."

Wicked people are those who would deprive bootleggers of the monopoly that finances crime.

After all, there has been no fundamental change in anything except the definition of "necessities."

The reason many people object to a dole is because they are afraid it might interfere with the one they are getting.

A Mexican poet says the most beautiful of English words is "cuspider." It is pretty, but it lacks the delicate nuances of "epitome."

"MEN WHO QUIT SMOKING LIVE LONGER." ESPECIALLY THE FIRST FEW DAYS.

But of course Sweden still has the nerve to sneer at America's toleration of plier racketeers.

The destitute have one consolation. They needn't worry when their babies are out of sight.

The more you read about the gullibility of Americans, the more you wonder at the self-control of swindlers.

AMERICANISM: Sneering at yokels because they once bought bad bricks; lifting our hats to big bankers who finance the world's Kreugers.

"Science improves food." True. Think how the invention of window screens improved raisin pie.

Still, times would have been just as bad in 1928 if people had been just as scared.

But if bootleggers turn to kidnapping because business is bad, how can you blame that on Prohibition?

"THERE IS NO BEAUTY IN STRAIGHT LINES," SAYS AN ARTIST. BOY, DID YOU EVER SEE A CLEAN SINGLE GOING OVER SECOND BASE?

Those people who think the dollar buys too much evidently haven't invested in any tax receipts recently.

The more you study these relief schemes, the more you wonder why both parties are so eager to get credit for them.

Of course a business man could run the country more cheaply. So could a Congressman if the others would let him.

"We must have faith," says a big banker. But not so much, please, in the wrong people.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "THE KIDS MESSED UP THE BOOK I BORROWED FROM YOU," SAID THE MAN, "SO I BOUGHT YOU A NEW ONE."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

SPREADING THE LOAD OF DEPRESSION

I have been asked again and again to discuss the proposal of a huge prosperity loan, and I am glad to say what seems to me the principle involved.

I believe the principle underlying a prosperity loan is sound emergency economics.

I think it is short-sighted on the part of governments to undertake to meet the full impact of the current emergency solely by raising taxes and reducing governmental expenditures.

Far-sighted policy must devise ways and means of making the periods of prosperity carry the largest feasible part of the burden of periods of depression.

A prosperity loan, in terms of serial bonds to be retired at proper intervals, with a long enough breathing spell before the first bonds are to be retired, is a move in the direction of spreading the burden of the depression over a longer period and hastening our economic recovery.

If we rely solely on a drastic increase in taxes and a drastic decrease in our expenditures on vital public services we shall increase rather than check depression, for we shall be striking another blow at buying power.

If steadiness and wisdom are not used we may find that we have done two things:

(1) That we have raised taxes to a point that will make it increasingly difficult for business and industry to resume normal operation.

(2) That we have reduced our expenditures on vital public services to a point that will leave them tragically crippled for a generation to come.

We must get buying power into the field and get it there quickly! A prosperity loan, administered to this end, and spent upon projects and services sorely needed for the progress of our people, projects that can get under way with decent promptness, is, in my judgment, the soundest of sound statecraft.

It will do little good, in the end, to restrict governmental aid to our banks if that aid does no more than enable the banks to get their own condition more liquid and then to sit conservatively on their new safety that has been made possible by governmental aid.

We must, I repeat, get buying power into the field, and get it there quickly.

POISON IVY
The poison ivy vine is no respecter of persons, nor of places. It climbs over stonewall and hedge. It lurks in the grass and it snuggles at the foot of old trees and gray boulders. It is beautiful and it is dangerous. The children should be warned against it and taught how to avoid its mean effects.

You can tell the vine by its three pointed, shiny leaves. In the spring they are usually tinted with reddish bronze. The vines have many little feet that cling to the stones and in the fall the old plants have bunches of waxy berries that are pretty and inviting. No wise child ever goes near them.

I tried for a long time to find a remedy for the itching rash this poisonous vine brought out on face and hands, or anywhere else it could reach, but without success. Once, about two springs ago, I wrote this protest and warning in the hope of saving some of the victims. A New England man wrote to me saying that he had a simple and effective cure for the rash. A very cheap and handy one at that. Brown soap.

I smiled at the brown soap idea. Surely if all the treatment the physicians had offered failed brown soap was not going to help much. Then one of the children got a dose of poison ivy on legs and arms. The prescribed remedies were not helping and I remembered the brown soap. I read the letter again.

"Take common brown soap. Dip it in hot water until it melts some. Rub it on the affected parts. Cover every sign of the rash with a coating of the soap. If it itches or burns put on more soap." I did just that and the rash cured up very promptly.

The letter went on to say, "When you have been exposed to the poison ivy wash yourself on all exposed parts with common brown soap and hot water. Scrub well. Let the suds dry. Don't wipe them off. Then apply a coating of the soap to all the exposed parts. That will prevent any trouble." And it does.

Lately we had to uproot about a mile of it and we did so without any ill effects. Everybody who went among the vines lathered himself with the brown soap and only once did one of us get a touch of it and it yielded promptly to the soap. I am passing along the word so that if you find yourself in need of a remedy for poison ivy this summer you have it. It cannot do any harm and it may do a lot of good. Many a happy summer has been spoiled by this noxious weedy vine, so beautiful and so bad.

Poison ivy is not dangerous but it is irritating in the extreme. It drives children into scratching and the scratching is likely to bring about an infection. Then, too, if the skin is broken by an insect bite and the child gets the poison ivy rash the infection that results is likely to give a lot of trouble. It is easier to prevent these difficulties than it is to suffer them.

TREASON INDICTMENT

On June 7, 1918, treason against the United States was charged and indictments issued against several prominent Americans. These included Jeremiah A. O'Leary, Willard Robinson, Emil Klipper, Lieutenant Commander Hermann Wessels, and the Baroness Maria von Kretschmann, said to be a kinswoman of the German empress. Espionage was charged.

American marines continued their drive for a two-and-a-half-mile front northwest of Chateau Thierry, taking Venilly la Poterie in co-operation with French troops. Americans took more than 300 prisoners.

Another Irish ship was accounted for by a German submarine in British waters. It was the Innisfallen, and 11 lives were lost when the ship sank.

TOO CUTE FOR WORDS

A doctor was diagnosing the complaint of a woman.

"You've got acute appendicitis," he said at last.

"The girl sat up indignantly.

"Say, don't get fresh," she said. "I want to be examined, not admired."—Tit-Bits.

NO SIR, NO SALE

"Cannot send goods until last consignment paid for."

To this the wholesaler replied:

"Cancel order. Cannot wait so long."—Answers.
